SUIT TO DISBAR LAWYER-SHERIFF OF MACON COUNTY

24 Charges, Including Attempted Extortion, Filed Against Barney R. Williams, Ex-Probate Judge.

ILLEGAL ESTATE LOANS ALLEGED

Official Accused of Letting Persons Supposed to Be in Jail Remain at Liberty for 75 Cents a Day.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—Disbarment proceedings to revoke the law license of Barney R. Williams of Macon, attorney, Sheriff of Macon County and former county Probate Judge, were filed today in the Kansas City Court of Appeals by the Bar Advisory Committee of the Missouri Supreme Court.

The 24 charges in the information filed by the committee ranged from an alleged practice of permitting persons supposed to be confined in the Macon County jail to remain at liberty for 75 cents a day to attempted extortion, alleged acceptance of "protection" payments from gamblers and bootleggers, and alleged illegal acceptance of loans from estates which were under the supervision of Williams while he was Probate Judge.

The advisory committee, headed by Boyle G. Clark of Columbia, general chairman of the bar committee, charged that Williams was guilty of professional misconduct, that he was guilty of acts showing him to be unfit to practice law, and that he was "guilty of acts showing him to be so lacking in personal honesty and good moral character as to render him unworthy of public confidence."

Williams was Probate Judge of Macon County from Jan. 1, 1915, to Jan. 1, 1927. He maintained a law office in Macon from January, 1927, until Jan. 1, 1933, when he became Sheriff of the county. At the primary election last week he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney of Macon County.

Allegations by Committee.
Among the charges filed by the committee against Williams were the following:
That while Probate Judge, he exacted attorney fees totaling $500 from the administratrix of an estate under his supervision.
That he solicited and obtained a loan of $5000 from the assets of the estate of an insane woman, which estate was under the supervision of the Probate Court. It was charged that an attempt was made to cover up this loan transaction by executing a note and deed of trust in the name of a trust company in Macon, and subsequently assigning them to the guardian of the insane ward of the court. Later, it was charged, the property securing the loan was sold on foreclosure of the note, for $1995, and the estate lost $3005 in the transaction.

That he obtained a loan of $600 from another estate under the control of the Probate Court, which was never repaid, and that the guardian of the estate had to pay the loan in a final settlement.
That, as Probate Judge, he collected $385 in inheritance taxes on estates under his control, but failed to transmit the taxes to the State and converted said sums to his own use.

That he failed to account for all of the fees collected by him as Probate Judge, and when sued for recovery of the fees pleaded the statute of limitations and settled the suits for less than the amounts alleged to be due the county.

Extortion Attempt Charge.
That he attempted to extort a large sum of money from a public official of Macon County, by threatening to file suit charging him with improper relations with a woman. The official, who was said, and the suit was not filed.

That he entered into agreements with various persons in Macon County, gambling, device and dice games, for the payment of "protection." It was alleged that the "protection" money was paid to Williams.

That he entered into agreements with several persons, who were hamed by the information, to permit them to operate stills for the manufacture of liquor, or to operate distilling establishments, on payment of $1 a gallon for each gallon of liquor manufactured or sold.
It was alleged that in two instances, Williams furnished the stills and the capital for their operation.
That he entered into an agreement to collect a 10 per cent commission on Page 2, Column 8.

THREE TOWNSEND LEADERS
DUSTED FOR 'INEFFICIENCY'

One, Dr. Clinton Wunder, Says Organization Was Sold Down River to Coughlin and Lemke.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Gilmour Young, national secretary of the Townsend-pension organization, announced last night the dismissal of Dr. Clinton Wunder, Eastern leader; J. B. Kiefer, Central regional director at Chicago, and William Parker, Eastern regional director at New York.

"The specific reason for which they were discharged was inefficiency," said Young. "Their general conduct in office was not satisfactory to the organization, or rather the Doctor (F. E. Townsend) felt it wasn't satisfactory."

The national secretary said there had been complaints that Dr. Wunder injected "politics and political personalities" into his speeches instead of concentrating exclusively on the pension plan.

Dr. Wunder in a statement in New York replied:

"I am fired because I objected to Dr. Townsend and Gerald Smith doing the very thing they now accuse me of," he stated. "They have sold the Townsend organization down the river to Coughlin and Lemke."

SPANISH REDS DRESS STATUE

as Child.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Aug. 12.—The Government guard in charge of the Church of San Jose has transformed the two-foot statue of the Christ Child in the portal of the church into a symbol of Communism.

The word "dynamite" (dynamite) has been rudely written on the globe on which the foot of the statue rests. A pistol has been bound to the raised right hand. In the left hand, held aloft, has been placed a red banner.

Red pants with blue suspenders and a belt with cartridges have been placed on the figure.

Underneath is a placard reading:
"I have betrayed the Fascists because I have become Communist."

CORN BELT RAIN FORECAST Cooler Weather to Follow Downpour in Central States.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Thundershowers were predicted over a wide expanse of the corn belt tonight or tomorrow by Government Forecaster A. W. Cook today, with cooler weather in prospect tomorrow for most of the Northern Central States.
The meteorologist said that the Western Plains States, where the extended drouth has played havoc with crops, would experience even higher temperatures tomorrow. The Southern great plains states bore the brunt of the heat today. Oklahoma City yesterday recorded its highest temperature—114 degrees.
Seven heat deaths in the State brought the death toll since July

MOVE TO SETTLE MARY ASTOR SUIT APPARENTLY FAILS

Judge Orders All Witnesses
Into Court for Afternoon Session After Conference.

DIARY REPORTED TO BE STUMBLING BLOCK

Compromise Effort Follows Court Criticism and Anxiety of Film Industry to Clear Up Case.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 12.— Superior Judge Goodwin J. Knight today summoned all witnesses in the dispute of Mary Astor and Dr.
Franklyn Thorpe to report in Court at 2 p. m., indicating that negotiations for a settlement had failed.

The Judge made his announcement at 11:30 a. m. after having been closeted for an hour and a half in his chambers with opposing counsel.

Previously Joseph Anderson, attorney for Dr. Thorpe, had said that the obstacle to a settlement was "extraneous matter not introduced in evidence." He apparently referred to what has become the focus of the dispute over custody of four-year-old Marylyn Thorpe—Mary's Astor's diary.

In this private book, Dr. Thorpe has charged his divorced wife wrote down accounts of her friendship with various men.

Judge Knight yesterday urged opposing lawyers to reshape their cases to permit a speedy conclusion to the hearing, then took a hand in negotiations intended to settle the disputed custody of the daughter. Thorpe last year when he divorced the actress.

An attorney for a film industry group, asking that his name be withheld, said in an interview:
"There's a lot going on behind the scenes. We've tried hard and sincerely to meet the demands of the Legion of Decency and other groups—and we don't want that whole situation to be stirred up again."

Miss Astor, said in exasperation, "My gosh, in a full day of testimony I didn't hear more than two points of evidence that were pertinent." Once he threatened to take over the questioning unless the points were limited to the child custody dispute. He adjournd court yesterday and ordered attorneys to revise their cases, which started the settlement conferences.

Miss Astor told on the witness stand of her association with George Kaufman, playwright, since sought on a bench warrant and said that John Barrymore, the actor, once called at her apartment to tell her his "troubles."

TWO MEN SHOT BY DEPUTY IN REMINGTON RAND STRIKE

Leaders Arrange for Mass Meeting to Petition for National Guard.

By the Associated Press.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Two men were shot in an outbreak of violence as leaders in the Remington Rand strike prepared for a mass meeting tonight to petition Gov. Lehman to replace guards at the plant with National Guardsmen.

Shot by a special deputy guarding the home of Fremont Thor-nely, a Remington Rand worker, Warren McMahon, said to be a striker, was held in a hospital here.
A companion, thought to have been wounded, escaped.

Herbert Palmer, special deputy, said he fired at four men after the Thornely home was stoned last night. Palmer said two men fell, but only McMahon was captured.

FOUR INJURED IN EXPLOSION
Two Others Still Trapped in Lincoln (Neb.) Building.

By the Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12.—Harry
K. Grainger, president of Grainger Brothers Wholesale Grocery Co., and three of his employees were injured seriously today in an explosion at the company's three-story building. At least two other persons were trapped under tons of debris.

Grainger, Phillip Hickman, John Johns and Jim Moutice were rescued in a short time and taken to hospitals. An explosion in a refrigerat-ing plant of the banana room in the basement of the brick building shook the wholesale district and collapsed the south wing of the Grainger structure. Grainger and the others were trapped in the basement.

MUENCH COUNSEL AT MEXICO NAMED IN BABY TRIAL

Mrs. Thomasson Says Press
T. Cross Said Only Way to Clear Up Case Was to "Get Another Baby."

KEATING PREVIOUSLY MENTIONED BY HER

Member of Kidnaping Trial Defense Quoted on Necessity of Obtaining Substitute Child.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KAHOKA, Mo., Aug. 12.—Press
T. Cross, Kansas City attorney and one of Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench's counsel in her trial at Mexico in the Kelley kidnaping case, was named today by Mrs. Grace Carolyn Thomasson, first witness in the Muench baby conspiracy trial, as having said that the only way to clear up the baby case was to "get another baby."

This was Mrs. Thomasson's second statement of this nature as to defense lawyers in the Mexico trial, which ended in Mrs. Muench's acquittal. Mrs. Thomasson yesterday quoted State Representative Edgar J. Keating of Kansas City, another of the former Muench counsel group, as having said that "if we didn't get another baby, and get the other (Anna Ware's) baby out of court, we'd all land in jail."

Mrs. Thomasson was under cross-examination today by Wilfred
Jones, a co-defendant in the case.
She said, as to Attorney Cross, that she had met him three times, once with Jones at the Mark Twain Hotel in St. Louis, and twice at the Westminster place home of Mrs. Muench. She said Mrs.
Muench had asked Cross for money, to be used in getting another baby, and that Cross had promised to provide $300, instructing Mrs. Thomasson to call for it at his room at 3 a. m. She said she refused to go to the hotel at that hour, and did not get the money.

She asserted again that Verne Lacy, defense counsel in the present trial, had given her $50 for expenses in the search for another baby, and that Mrs. Muench at the same time gave her $5.

Judge Warns Jones.
Attorney Jones was warned today by Circuit Judge Walter A. Higbee that if he persisted in asking improper questions in his tedious cross-examination of Mrs. Thomasson he would be fined for contempt.
The questions related to whether Mrs. Thomasson had made a statement confessing that she had violated the law by her acts in the Muench baby hoax.

The Court informed Jones that there was a proper way to get at the matter and that as a lawyer he ought to know it. Jones had been asked to question Mrs. Thomasson about the law by her acts in the baby hoax.

Questioning by Jones today was primarily about matters that have been fully covered in earlier cross-examination, and Judge Higbee admonished Jones to get on with something constructive. The lawyer-defendant continued floundering through a mass of questions asking questions to which objections almost invariably were sustained.

Long Cross-Examination.
When Jones resumed the questioning today, Mrs. Thomasson, formerly his friend and associate, already had withstood more than 15 hours of cross-examination at the hands of defense counsel.

When the lawyer-defendant ended his cross-examination, shortly before noon, Attorney Lacy, representing three defendants—Mrs. Muench, her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, and Mrs. Helen Berroyer, renewed his cross-examination, although he had previously questioned the witness for about 12 hours, largely about details of her somewhat checkered past. Jones had followed with three and a half hours of questioning yesterday and two and a half hours today.

Seemingly defense counsel had adopted the tactics of harassing the witness with endless questioning about minute details; but the more they pressed her the more vigorously she asserted the truth of her previous testimony, remaining close, in the repetition, to the main narrative.

Judge Breaks His Gavel.
At noon recess Mrs. Thomasson was still under questioning by Lacy.
He took up the cross-examination by asking her preliminary questions about old civil litigation involving her and the late Hugh W. Thomasson, seeking to lay a foundation for impeachment.

As Lacy stood directly in front of her, she shook a finger and shouting, Prosecuting Attorney James P.
Delta recently from Arkansas.

MAN AND WOMAN KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Firmin Desloge Fusz Jr.
Victim of Unusual Accident.

Mrs. Edna Lawrence Fusz, wife of Firmin Desloge Fusz Jr., 533 Sheffield avenue, Webster Groves, died yesterday at Phelps, a northern Wisconsin resort near Eagle River, of injuries suffered Sunday in an unusual automobile accident.

She was run over by an automobile in which she had been riding, when it was struck by another car after it had been pulled back to the highway from loose sand at the roadside. The impact caused the machine to roll down an embankment nearly 30 feet to a point where she had been when the cars collided.

Robert C. Kenney, a musician employed at a nearby night club, who had volunteered assistance in getting the Fusz machine back on the road, was also killed when the automobile was struck.

The automobile in which Mrs.
Fusz was a passenger had been driven by Burke Roche, son of former Assistant State's Attorney Pat Roche of Chicago. Other occupants were his 12-year-old sister and a young woman. They were uninjured.

The car had been pulled back from the sand by a passing motorist, and all the occupants had alighted. Kenney was disengaging a chain from the rear bumper of Roche's car which had been used for towing. An automobile driven by Samuel Lapiccolo, Detroit barber, struck the Roche car and Kenney's legs were broken by the impact, which sent the machine again down the embankment to where Mrs. Fusz had fled.

Mrs. Fusz was taken to the nearby Phelps hospital where it was found she had suffered fractures of the right leg, hip and internal injuries. Two blood transfusions were administered in an effort to save her life.

Wife of St. Louis Broker.
Mrs. Fusz, 29 years old, was spending the summer with her husband at Little Twin Lake Lodge at Phelps, where they had visited each year for the last four years. Her husband, who left for the resort after receiving word of the accident, is secretary-treasurer of Fusz-Schmelze & Co., share and bond brokers, at 314 North Broadway.

Funeral services for Mrs. Fusz will be held at 8:15 a. m., Friday, from Arthur J. Donnelly's chapel to Holy Redeemer Church, Lockwood, by Father J. J. Connelley.
Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery. Her husband and an uncle, Henry C. Lawrence, with whom she made her home before marriage, survive.

GREENWOOD, Miss., Aug. 12.— Sheriff Earl Egan reported the killing today of two white men by Egan said the men who were killed had moved to the Mississippi

Delta recently from Arkansas.

6 REBELS ESCAPE, TELL OF PRIVATION IN BESEIGED FORT

1200 Men, Women and Children in Alcazar Eat Horses to Keep Alive.

By the Associated Press.

TOLEDO, Spain, Aug. 12.—Besieged for 21 days behind the six-foot walls of the ancient Alcazar, 1200 Fascist civil guards are reported to have taken desperate steps to keep from starving.

Six soldiers, who risked their lives in a hazardous escape from the fortress, which is surrounded by Leflist troops, told of the privation of men, women and children within the citadel.

The rebels, they said, have killed their horses for food. Breakfast has been reduced to dried bread and toasted straw boiled in stale water. Stewed horseflesh is served with dried bread for lunch and dinner, and is taken with stagnant water from the Alcazar well.

Burial of the dead is a serious problem for the rebels, the escaped soldiers related. Some graves were dug in the grounds of a small riding academy within the Alcazar, but after it was filled bodies were thrown from the battlements on the side of the fortress close to the edge of a drop of more than 100 feet to the Tagus River.

SHIP PLOWS THROUGH SHARKS LAST FIVE MILES OF U. S. TRIP

Captain of SS. Berlin Says He Has Never Seen As Many of Them at One Time.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Capt.
Fritz Krone, master of the SS.
Berlin, completing a crossing from Germany, said today the ship plowed through sharks during the last five miles at sea.

"I have never seen so many sharks at one time in these waters," said Capt. Krone. "The ocean was carpeted with them from Fire Island into the bay. I was amazed and bewildered at the number of monsters in the water."

Passengers said they had seen a fight between one of the big sharks and a sword fish near Fire Island.
They said the two fish leaped far above the water and the sea was reddened with blood for many yards.

EX-OFFICIAL OF WAYNE COUNTY GETS FOUR-YEAR SENTENCE

Former Collector Pleads Guilty of Embezzling County Funds;
Bondsman Repay Shortage.

By the Associated Press.

GREENVILLE, Mo., Aug. 12.—
Noah L. Brown, former Collector of Revenue for Wayne County, was sentenced to four years in the Missouri penitentiary yesterday by Judge E. M. Dearing.

Brown pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to two charges of embezzlement of county funds. Two other charges were nolle prossed by Prosecuting Attorney Roy McGee.

The total shortage in county funds, all of which has been repaid by Brown's bondsman, was placed at $6804. Brown was arrested June 19, 1935.

An audit of his records was ordered after he had told of being kidnaped while working at night in his office. He said the kidnapers took considerable county money.

FOUR U. S. WOMEN IN SPAIN RESCUED

Taken by Plane From Granada to Tangier; Other Americans Stranded.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Four American women were rescued from Granada, Spain, by airplane yesterday.

The four women, among more than 20 Americans stranded in Granada since the outbreak of the revolution, were landed safely in Tangier, Morocco, by plane hired by an oil company and flown from England for the purpose.

The plane landed in Tangier and proceeded to Granada via Seville, making the return trip.

Those rescued were: Rachel E.
Wittwer, New York; Ada H. K. Seeley, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Jamie Bruce Ross, Chicago, and Leila Cook Barber, Chicago.

The American Consul in Tangier, Maxwell Blake, reported to the State Department that the rescue plane would not be returned to Granada. It was understood that the remaining Americans will be taken to Seville by military plane.

Military authorities in Seville expressed the belief that evacuation of the 400 foreigners in Granada was impossible by any other means.

Miss Jamie Bruce Ross, one of four women taken by plane from Granada, is the sister of Charles G. Ross, editor of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch. She is a teacher of history in Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Her brother received a telegram from her yesterday, saying she expected to obtain passage for the United States on an Italian liner, stopping at Gibraltar.

GOV. ROSS AHEAD IN DEMOCRATIC RACE

Municipal Power Champion Holds Slight Margin for Selection as Party's Choice For Governor.

By the Associated Press.
BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 12.—Senator William E. Borah held a three-to-one lead over a Townsend-endorsement opponent for the Republican Senatorial nomination today in returns from yesterday's primary. He already has served five terms in the Senate. His opponent was Byron Defenbach, former State Treasurer. Unofficial returns from 498 of 850 precincts gave Borah, 26,593; Defenbach, 7,945.

Gov. C. Ben Ross was leading John Carver, United States District Attorney, in the Democratic primary for the Senatorial nomination. Returns from 483 precincts gave Ross, 19,851; Carver, 15,745.

Mayor Barzilla Clark of Idaho Falls, municipal power champion, held a slight margin over Attorney-General Bert H. Miller, with Lieutenant-Governor G. P. Mix of Moscow third, in the eight-sided contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Frank L. Stephan of Twin Falls—defeated for Governor when Ross won a third term in 1934—was nominated again by the Republicans, winning over L. V. Patch of Fayette and T. B. Chapman of Boise.

During the voting yesterday, Townsendites met in State convention and nominated Defenbach along with Duncan M. Johnston and Representative Compton I. White, Congressional candidates. This assured them of places on the November ballot regardless of the outcome of the primary.

Borah conducted a thorough campaign, but an unexpected one, often traveling alone to speak at country places, fairs and schools, usually about money, monopoly and farm tariffs.

Ross, although a staunch party man, has criticized certain Roosevelt Administration relief policies.

Senator Robinson Renominated; Governor Race Close.

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 12.—Returns from yesterday's Democratic primary, in which Senate Democratic Leader Joe T. Robinson was renominated by a majority of 4 to 1, left the outcome of the five-man Governor's race in doubt today.

Returns from 1588 precincts of 2156 gave Robinson, 108,988; Cleveland Holland, Townsend pension plan advocate, 25,551; J. Rosser Venable, Little Rock World War Veteran, 13,556.

The contest for Governorship appeared to lie between Attorney-General Carl E. Bailey and Secretary of State Ed F. McDonald, with Pulaski County Judge R. A. Cook in third place.

With 523 precincts unreported, Bailey had 80,463; McDonald 48,561; Cook 47,506; Tom J. Terral 17,517; Comptroller Howard Reed 4488. Cook and Terral advocated the share-the-wealth plan.

Two men overpowered officials at the Cleveland (Ark.) voting booth yesterday, destroyed all unused ballots and took away the cast votes and burned them. Duplicate ballots provided under Arkansas' new "pure election" law, were saved by a woman judge who ran with them to her home.

Townsend Advocate, C. O. Andrews, Elected U. S. Senator in Florida.

By the Associated Press.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 12.—Charles O. Andrews of Orlando, Townsend pension advocate, won the Democratic nomination for the seat of the late United States Senator Park Trammell yesterday.

Fairly complete returns gave him a lead of nearly 7000 votes over former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton, who conceded defeat. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in Florida. Andrews issued a statement thanking his supporters and promising to push the Townsend plan in the Senate. He was endorsed by the State convention of Townsend clubs and approved the revolving pension program "as a plan."

Y., became the first American woman to establish a seaplane record for planes of any class when she piloted her tiny Aerona plane over a 100-kilometer course off Old Point Comfort, Va., Saturday, at an average speed of 66.6 miles an hour. The flight was supervised and declared official by N. A. C. A. aviation officials.

Government Reports Checking Rebel Attack on San Sebastian.

By the Associated Press.
IRUN, Spain, Aug. 12.—Government forces today checked a rebel offensive against San Sebastian, after hard fighting. Insurgent artillery was driven off Picoteta Mountain, commanding Irun by fire from Fort Guadalupe and San Sebastian.

Three-fourths of the rebel militia of the Irun front were in retreat toward Pamplona. Government officers advised. Loyalists say they will next attack Pamplona, a rebel stronghold.

Government forces said the rebels had not gained any territory since they captured Tolosa, a few miles south of here, yesterday. Leftist troops were well lodged on the heights surrounding San Sebastian but conditions in the city steadily were growing worse.

The water supply had given out and authorities advised the citizens to seek their own sources of water from springs outside the town.

Men and women of Popular Front militia fought side by side in defense of Irun.

Shells from rebel artillery fell into Fuenterrabia. Hand-to-hand fighting between Fascist and Government troops marked engagements in the hills surrounding Irun. Many women dressed in overalls took their turn at operating machine guns and field artillery.

The rebel forces advanced to within three miles of Irun after occupation of positions on the eastern side of the Bidasoa River.

EX-KING CONSIDERING RETURNING TO SPAIN

Alfonso Said to Plan to Have Plane Waiting in Hope Revolution Succeeds.

(Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press.)
DELACH, Austria, Aug. 12.—Former King Alfonso may try to fly back to Spain.

He called his two sons, Jaime and Juan, into council today to decide their course. What they agreed to do, the exiles would not say.

"As long as the disturbances continue," Alfonso told the Associated Press, "I cannot discuss my plans."

The ex-king, who lost his throne in the revolution of 1931, seemed perturbed when told that an airplane flown to him in Czechoslovakia by an English pilot was confiscated at Innsbruck yesterday. It was reported that the machine, nevertheless, would be taken to Venice to fly Alfonso to Spain at the moment such a move appeared to be propitious.

So important was the conference of the former ruler and his sons, one of whom is the Prince of the Asturias, heir-presumptive to the abolished Spanish throne, that a scheduled memorial service for a third son, Gonzales, was postponed until tomorrow. Gonzales died two years ago of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Juan and his brother came here from France.

"I am in deepest mourning over the events in Spain," Alfonso said. The Marquis de Viana, his personal adjutant, said: "It is all still undecided what His Majesty will do. Everything depends upon the results of the revolution in Spain. The King is greatly worried."

The airplane confiscated yesterday was piloted by Owen Calhoun Jones, an Englishman, and was of American manufacture. It carried two Spanish couriers to Alfonso.

Austrian authorities said Jones' permit to fly had expired. The pilot left Innsbruck, saying he was going by train to Cannes, France. He declined to disclose the name of the machine's owner, except to say, "He is a friend of Spain from St. Louis."

No Overtures by France.

The State Department is being kept closely informed of the French Government's efforts to organize an international neutrality compact.

To clarify persistent reports that France had sounded out this Government on the possibility of United States participation in such an agreement, the department stated that France had neither asked nor been given this nation's views.

Neither such a request nor an actual invitation to co-operate is expected, it was indicated.

Information concerning the French measures, it was said, has been conveyed in the most informal way through the American Embassy in Paris and the French Embassy here. It has been confined solely to factual data concerning France's moves, and was described as quite usual.

The safe arrival of the American motor yacht Maru at Palamos, Spain, was reported today to the State Department. The vessel, carrying its owner, Edwin H. Bertuch, had been unreported since leaving Palma, in the Balearic Islands, Aug. 7, for Port Vendres, France.

John P. Hurley, American Consul at Marseilles, notified the department he had been informed by Mrs. Bertuch that the Maru was safe at Palamos.

The evacuation of 14 American Nationals from Bilbao, on the Northern Coast of Spain, by the Coast Guard Cutter Cayuga also was reported to the department. The cutter also took off 13 nationals of other countries.

The State Department's second plea within eight days to Americans to flee from Spain, while facilities still were available, was dispatched by Acting Secretary Phillips in the following message to the Embassy in Madrid:

"I cannot urge too strongly that all American citizens who can possibly do so take advantage of the present facilities to proceed to places of safety."

U. S. NEUTRALITY POLICY EXTENDED TO WAR IN SPAIN

State Department Instructs Representatives to 'Scrupulously Refrain From Interference.'

TRIES TO DISCOURAGE ARMAMENT SALES

No Law Bars Them but Plane Companies With Spanish Orders in View Are Shown Statement.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Government has announced a "hands-off" policy in the Spanish civil war.

The first official expression since the rebellion began came last night when Acting Secretary of State William Phillips made public instructions he said had been sent Aug. 7 to all United States representatives in Spain. In this statement Phillips emphasized that the Government would "scrupulously refrain from any interference whatsoever in the unfortunate Spanish situation."

The statement was read to aviation company representatives who had sought the State Department's advice on the sale of planes to Spaniards. The names of the companies were not announced.

Officials said the companies had been approached with orders for fighting craft—whether from loyalists or rebels was not disclosed.

Inference From Action.

The inference was that while the United States neutrality law does not bar the sale of implements of war to forces involved in a civil conflict within one nation, the Government intends to discourage such activities.

The text of the State Department announcement said:

"The Acting Secretary of State, Mr. William Phillips, on Aug. 7 sent the following instruction to all representatives of this Government in Spain:

"While I realize that all of our officers have fully appreciated the necessity for maintaining a completely impartial attitude with regard to the disturbances in Spain, and that such an attitude has at all times been maintained by them, it may be well for them to have a summing up of what this Government's position thus far has been and will continue to be."

"It is clear that our neutrality law with respect to embargo of arms, ammunition and implements of war has no application in the present situation, since that applies only in the event of war between or among nations. On the other hand, in conformity with its well-established policy of non-interference with internal affairs in other countries, either in time of peace or in the event of civil strife, this Government will, of course, scrupulously refrain from any interference whatsoever in the unfortunate Spanish situation. We believe that American citizens, both at home and abroad, are patriotically observing this well-recognized American policy."

No Overtures by France.

The State Department is being kept closely informed of the French Government's efforts to organize an international neutrality compact.

SAYS WPA FIRED HER BECAUSE UNIT PRODUCED 'TOO MUCH'

Former Director of New York City Women's Activities Asserts Labor Vote Is Being Organized.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Sarah S. Dennen has issued a statement attributing her dismissal as director of women's WPA activities in New York City to encouragement of the women to produce "too much" work, the discharge of labor agitators and entertainment of workers with WPA bands and movies.

Her statement followed acceptance by Brehon B. Somervell, new WPA head for the city, of her resignation which was submitted with those of other directors, heads Aug. 1. She said that the resignations had been submitted as a matter of courtesy to Somervell, and that the persons tendering them had no idea they would be accepted.

"Evidently the political tracks are being cleared for the organization of the WPA labor vote," Mrs. Dennen said. She said she had provided entertainment for the workers to prevent red agitation, but that Somervell had suggested that her activities along this line might produce unfavorable comment, embarrassing to the administration.

TRAFFIC INSPECTORS BEGIN MAKING ARRESTS

Orders Issued After Mayor's Meeting; 30 Per Cent Increase in July Accidents.

The city's 22 traffic inspectors were under instructions today to begin making arrests in cases where traffic violations come to their attention. These orders were issued yesterday following a meeting of the Traffic Commission in Mayor Dickmann's office at City Hall at which an increase in traffic accidents last month was discussed.

Previously the duties of traffic inspectors have been limited to observation and attempted enforcement of the drivers' license law.

Decrease for Seven Months.

Although there was an increase in traffic accidents in July, as compared with July, 1935, the figures for the first seven months of 1936, as compiled by Director of Streets and Sewers Frank J. McDevitt, show a substantial decrease.

In July, 1935, the Police Department was in the midst of one of its periodic intensive safety campaigns. Daily bulletins were being issued on the number of motorists arrested, and stiff penalties of $50 and 30 days in jail were being meted out in the Police Courts.

Last month 824 traffic accidents were reported, an increase of 30 per cent over July, 1935. Injuries totaled 501, an increase of 25 per cent; fatalities, 8, no change; injuries requiring hospital care, 427, an increase of 37 per cent; accidents involving alcoholism, 41, an increase of 8 per cent, and accidents in which drivers left the scene, 45, a decrease of 15 per cent.

For the seven-month period, however, traffic accidents totaled 4982, a decrease of 4.8 per cent. Injuries totaled 2676, a decrease of 13 per cent; fatalities, 85, a decrease of 19 per cent; accidents involving hospital care, 2257, a decrease of 19 per cent; accidents involving alcoholism, 364, a decrease of 38 per cent; and accidents in which drivers left the scene, 388, a decrease of 8.5 per cent.

31 Per Cent Decrease in Arrests.

McDevitt, who is out of the city, submitted a written report, pointing out that arrests for traffic violations during the first seven months of this year were 31 per cent less than in the similar period last year.

The decrease, he suggested, might be due to fewer violations, or to lessening of police activity.

He mentioned that the city had issued 212,000 drivers' licenses, in the ratio of 1.08 per automobile, and said this ratio indicated that many drivers did not have licenses. Elsewhere, he said, the ratio runs from 2.5 licenses per car to 4 per car.

McDevitt suggested that inspectors and policemen should work nights near motion picture theaters and similar places, requiring motorists to show their licenses. Many motorists, he thought, do not use their cars during the day, and so are missed in the ordinary efforts to enforce the drivers' license law. 26,933 Stop Sign Violations.

Joseph Schneider, supervisor of traffic inspectors, reported that on two days, Aug. 7 and Aug. 10, they had observed 26,933 violations of traffic stop signs while posted at various intersections in the city.

"Rolling stops" in which automobiles were not brought to a standstill, were not counted as violations. The worst intersection was Delmar boulevard and Euclid avenue, where on Aug. 7 from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. 9358 violations were observed.

George Ptasznik Charged With Careless Driving and Leaving Scene of Accident.

George Ptasznik, a mechanic, 4905 Genevieve avenue, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse by Police Judge George G. Vast today on charges of careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The charges grew out of an accident in the 8100 block of Robin avenue, Aug. 9, in which Ptasznik's truck struck a parked car. He was arrested at his home later in the day. His truck was found at the scene of the accident. He had no driver's license.

ARREST OF TWO MORE CLERKS OF ELECTION ORDERED

Police Directed to Detain W. L. Davenport and James Lane in Precinct

GRAND JURY INQUIRY GOES ON

Walter Ligon, Negro, and Edward Fisher in 19th
Ward, Give Bond After Indictment.

The arrest of William L. Davenport, 1623 Deer street, and James Lane, 434 Delmar boulevard, election clerks in the Fourteenth Precinct of the Twenty-third Ward, was ordered this afternoon by the Circuit Attorney's office.

The grand jury which has been investigating registration frauds exposed by the Post-Dispatch, today considered conditions in that precinct and it was assumed that Davenport and Lane had been indicted for willful neglect to make the revision canvass which should have followed the registration of June 18.

Eighteen Others Indicted.

Eighteen other clerks have been indicted on similar charges since the grand jury began its inquiry in the precinct, which should have been assigned to canvass, and canvassers reported 132 "not found" of the 625 registered.

Within the precinct is the Twenty-third Ward Democratic Club, 4400 Delmar boulevard, listed as the home of 14 registered voters. During the Post-Dispatch exposure of registration frauds, a reporter who called there found three men sitting around a table reading newspapers. They assured him that all 14 lived there.

Davenport was the Democratic clerk for the precinct, and Lane the Republican.

Two Others Under Bond.

Walter Ligon, a Negro, 915A North Theresia avenue, and Edward Fisher, 3104 Easton avenue, election clerks in the Fifteenth Precinct of the Nineteenth Ward, were indicted yesterday for failure to canvass. Ligon surrendered today and gave bond of $1000. Fisher, arrested yesterday, also was released on $1000 bond.

Statement by Ligon.

Fisher, before he was released on bond yesterday, told reporters that he and Ligon had made a careful canvass of their precinct, scratching the names of 40 or 50 registered voters whom they could not find at the places from which they were registered. The canvassers in that precinct, in which 833 were registered after the canvass by Fisher and Ligon, reported 147 "not found."

The offense with which the election clerks are charged is a misdemeanor, punishable by a jail or workhouse sentence of 30 to 60 days.

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, the grand jury will remain in session, considering a new precinct each day. After Saturday's session will take a recess until Sept. 1.

The grand jury will reconvene then to attend to routine matters. It will be discharged Sept. 11 and a new grand jury will be impaneled Sept. 14.

The stenographer who takes the testimony of witnesses now appearing before the grand jury is Mrs. Mary Dalley, a sister of State Senator Joseph H. Brogan. Mrs. Dalley, who has been employed in the Circuit Attorney's office for nearly eight years, took the place of Francis X. Quinn, who is on crutches because of an ankle injury and was advised to take a rest by his physician.

Walter Ligon, a Negro, 915A North Theresia avenue, and Edward Fisher, 3104 Easton avenue, election clerks in the Fifteenth Precinct of the Nineteenth Ward, were indicted yesterday for failure to canvass. Ligon surrendered today and gave bond of $1000. Fisher, arrested yesterday, also was released on $1000 bond.

Statement by Ligon.

Fisher, before he was released on bond yesterday, told reporters that he and Ligon had made a careful canvass of their precinct, scratching the names of 40 or 50 registered voters whom they could not find at the places from which they were registered. The canvassers in that precinct, in which 833 were registered after the canvass by Fisher and Ligon, reported 147 "not found."

The offense with which the election clerks are charged is a misdemeanor, punishable by a jail or workhouse sentence of 30 to 60 days.

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, the grand jury will remain in session, considering a new precinct each day. After Saturday's session will take a recess until Sept. 1.

The grand jury will reconvene then to attend to routine matters. It will be discharged Sept. 11 and a new grand jury will be impaneled Sept. 14.

The stenographer who takes the testimony of witnesses now appearing before the grand jury is Mrs. Mary Dalley, a sister of State Senator Joseph H. Brogan. Mrs. Dalley, who has been employed in the Circuit Attorney's office for nearly eight years, took the place of Francis X. Quinn, who is on crutches because of an ankle injury and was advised to take a rest by his physician.

777,734.1116 SPENT IN STATE
BY WPA UP TO JUNE 30

Obligations Incurred Nearly $20,000,000 Greater; Average Monthly Wage $44.98.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Works Progress Administration, in a report as of June 30, shows an expenditure of $77,734,116 in Missouri from the $4,880,000,000 emergency relief act of 1933.

Obligations incurred, however, nearly $20,000,000 greater, totaling $97,339,687. Total allocations to the State amounted to $106,773,382, leaving $9,438,686 still available.

Allocations to the WPA alone amounted to $32,169,861, of which $31,128,000 was listed as loans and grants. The WPA reported the average monthly wage rate in Missouri, as of March, was $44.98, women receiving $46.58 to $44.57 for men.

For St. Louis the average monthly wage was $59.49, women receiving $59.56 and men $59.47. For the remainder of the State the average monthly wage was $38.68—$40.57 for women and $38.26 for men.

WOMAN REFUSED BALLOT; 'SOMEONE VOTED FOR YOU'

Mrs. Louise Smith Quotes Third Ward Precinct Captain as Telling Her to 'Forget About It.'

One of the finer points of river ward politics—making use of legal registration of qualified voters instead of fictitious enrollments on the poll books—was demonstrated in last week's primary election in the Ninth Precinct of the Third Ward, where Mrs. Louise Smith, 1446 Warren street, went to the polling place at 1427 North Market street and learned to her surprise that she was recorded as already having voted.

Dismayed at the refusal of the judges to give her a ballot, Mrs. Smith, a regular Democratic voter for the last eight years, appealed to Michael J. Hayes, 1425 Wright street, a Democratic watcher and the only person she knew in the polling place. He is a Park Department laborer. Hayes referred her to James Barnes, a deputy under Constable Thomas E. Clifford, and acting Democratic precinct captain.

"Oh, yes," Mrs. Smith quoted Precinct Captain Barnes as saying, "someone came in and voted for you this morning. They said you wouldn't have time to vote."

Mrs. Smith, insisting that she be permitted to vote, said she asked Barnes what she could do about it.

Told to Forget About It.

"You just go home and forget about it," Barnes told her, Mrs. Smith related. Mrs. Smith did go home without voting, but she didn't forget about it.

At Constable Clifford's office, 2200 St. Louis avenue, and at Barnes' residence, 1917 Benton street, a Post-Dispatch reporter was told the precinct captain was in Chicago for the week.

Hayes, found at the office of St. Louis Park, Twenty-first and Benton streets, verified the statement that Mrs. Smith's name already had been marked off the register as having voted when she appeared at 6 p. m.

He said he referred her to Precinct Captain Barnes, who was outside the polling place, and that he did not hear their conversation.

Since he said he had known Mrs. Smith for about seven years, Hayes was asked why he had not challenged the person voting her name. He replied that this must have happened when he was "out to lunch" about noon.

No One Knew Mrs. Smith.

Hayes, many times a Democratic judge or clerk of election during the last 20 years, pointed out that none of the precinct officials knew Mrs. Smith, as she had stated, and that they thus were unable to detect the impostor.

One of the Democratic judges, a temporary appointee, was R. B. Cunningham, who resides on the second floor of the warehouse, in which Precinct Captain Barnes lives at 1917 Benton street. The front of the building has several large posters bearing the name of State Senator Joseph Brogan, also Third Ward Congressman, who was unsuccessfully opposed for the Democratic senatorial nomination in the Thirty-third District, by J. Howard Quinn, protégé of Justice of the Peace Jimmy Miller, Fourth Ward political czar. In the Third Ward, Senator Brogan received 4166 votes, Quinn 207.

In the recent official canvass made by the Board of Election Commissioners after disclosure by the Post-Dispatch of widespread padding of registration records, 149 of 554 persons registered in the ninth precinct of the Third Ward, or 27 per cent, could not be found.

OFFICERS OF MILL HELD IN PLANT BY STRIKERS

GAFFNEY, S. C., Aug. 12.—A crowd of cotton mill strikers, armed with makeshift weapons, held four officers and six workmen in the mill for five hours yesterday.

The strikers, carrying clubs, baseball bats and blackjacks, officers said, began assembling around the mill after the officers and workmen went there to remove a truckload of machinery. The gates were locked by the strikers, and a hundred or more guarded the gates. The officers did not try to leave until 8 p. m., when they were permitted to go through the crowd.

There was no attempt to move the machinery from the plant. Officers said, however, the machinery would be removed later.

Japanese Actress Who Was Murdered

Jealous Suitor Accused by Fiance in Los Angeles Murder; Both White Men.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 12.—A jealous white suitor was sought by police today in the killing of Midi Takaka, Japanese actress, said by another white man to have been his fiancée.

The 25-year-old actress ran from her home yesterday and fell dying on the lawn. Her throat had been cut with a butcher knife.

Detective Capt. Hubert Walls ordered a search for Ray Johnson, 39-year-old cook, who had been friendly with her before she fulfilled engagements in Eastern theaters and night clubs, where she was billed as "Neda Taka."

William J. Bachand of New York City, who fell in love with her on a recent transcontinental bus trip west, said he was asleep in her home at the time of the killing.

A peddler, Abe Zaltasky, chased the murderer with his horse and wagon, but was outdistanced.

Bachand said he had intended to marry the actress, their romance angrier Johnson. Returning from a theater Monday night, he said Johnson attacked him with an ice pick inflicting five flesh wounds.

Detectives found a heavy iron chisel in the dead woman's room. They expressed the opinion she was struck with it as she slept before her throat was cut.

The death broke up the team of "Taka Sisters," frequently billed as "the only Japanese triplets on the stage."

who are present," was the quick reply.

Dr. Levy On Stand.

The second witness for the State was Dr. Aaron Levy, head of the Department of Pediatrics at the Jewish Hospital in St. Louis, who took the stand after Mrs. Thomasson was excused. He testified he saw the Price baby in the Muench home last Jan. 1935, and gave substantially the same evidence he had given in the St. Louis Court of Appeals and at the first hearing of the present case, relating that he was summoned to the Muench home about 3 o'clock one afternoon by Dr. Muench, who sought his attendance on a sick baby.

Dr. Muench met him at the door, he continued, and remarked that Mrs. Muench was "so happy to have the baby and was grieved that it was sick." Dr. Levy added the significant statement that Dr. Muench told him the infant had been brought to the Muench home within the last 24 hours.

He saw Mrs. Muench in a bedroom, Dr. Levy went on, examined the baby and found it to be "desperately ill." It was taken to Jewish Hospital at his suggestion and died there five days later, he testified.

While the child was at the hospital, Dr. Levy said, Dr. Muench or his telephone daily to learn its condition, expressing great solicitude.

As he was leaving the Muench home after his examination of the child, Dr. Levy continued, Dr. Muench remarked that he did not want the presence of the baby known at that time because he had "so much notoriety."

"I replied I would respect his wishes," Dr. Levy testified.

When Jones sought details of an incident in which Mrs. Thomasson said she and the attorney were arrested through a hotel clerk's "misunderstanding" of Jones' presence in her room, Judge Higbee said, "I think this whole thing is out of order—let's get out of police court."

"Shaking Off Evil Associates."

A high spot in Mrs. Thomasson's cross-examination was her cool declaration to Lawyer Jones that she was trying to shake off all her former "associates in evil deeds" and lead a new life. That was why, she continued, she had made a full and truthful statement of her knowledge of, and part in, the arrangements for the Muench baby, in which first the Price baby, which died, and later the son of Anna Ware was delivered to the Muenches in carrying out the scheme.

Jones, taking an attitude of surprise, as he continued the cross-examination, said: "So you have thrown off your evil associates, have you? Well, have you shaken off Mortimer Coleman?" (She had previously testified that she was acquainted with Coleman and did not deny her association with him.)

The witness evaded this question, as she did many others, and Jones, blundering along, demanded, "Now, can you name one evil associate that you have shaken?"

Measuring Jones calmly, the witness spoke slowly but sharply: "Yes, Wilfred Jones, Nellie Muench, Helen Berroyer, Dr. Muench and I swore to tell the truth and that is just what I am telling."

Describes His Office.

Lacy finished with the witness at 2:30 p. m. after she had been under cross-examination for approximately 20 hours. He concluded by asking her to describe his office, which she did in a general way saying she was there so short a time, she could not remember details.

In his cross-examination this morning, Jones asked Mrs. Thomasson whether she had not told persons who were aiding her in writing and marketing a story of her life that she was willing to say she had taken the Ware baby but did not want to tell that she had taken the Price baby. The Price baby, which died, was predecessor of the Ware infant in the baby hoax.

Mrs. Thomasson's reply was "absolutely not." Her direct testimony was that she had not taken either baby, but that she was informed by the defendants that Mrs. Berroyer had taken both.

In her direct testimony, Mrs. Thomasson linked all four defendants with an alleged plot to get a baby for Mrs. Muench to call her own, with the purpose of getting a large sum of money from Dr. Marshall Higbee, wealthy St. Louis bachelor physician, by accusing him of being the child's father.

Part of Reply Delet.

Rambling on, Jones inquired whether Mrs. Thomasson ever had heard anyone refer to Mrs. Muench as "Nellie." The witness said she had. Then Jones asked whether she had heard Dr. Muench call his wife Nellie and Mrs. Thomasson said, "yes, he calls her worse than that sometimes. Her reply, excepting 'yes,' was struck from the record.

DARTS FROM FATHER'S SIDE; KILLED BY TRUCK

George Cumming, 3, Struck by County Machine While Crossing Road.

George W. Cumming, 3 years old, 2729 Harry's lane, Wellston, was killed at 10:30 a. m. today when struck by a County Highway Department motor truck in the 8200 block of St. Charles road. He was dead of internal injuries when taken to the office of Dr. C. E. Sterling, 2205 North and South road.

The boy was crossing the road with his father, George H. Cumming, a butcher, and his sister, Betty, 9, when he suddenly darted into the path of the truck, according to the driver, Russell J. Young, 35 South Gore avenue, Webster Groves. Young stopped another motorist, who took the child to Dr. Sterling's office.

Young told officers that he was driving slowly west at the time of the accident. He was placed under $2500 bond pending an inquest tomorrow. The father of the boy was overcome by grief, and officers were unable to obtain a statement from him.

Dies of Auto Injuries Three Days After His Wife

Jesse Buxton, 74 years old, a retired real estate dealer, died yesterday afternoon at St. Anthony's Hospital of injuries suffered Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident on Highway 30 in which his wife was killed.

The Buxtons were driving near Cedar Hill, Jefferson County, where they lived, when their coupe was struck from behind by another machine driven by Oscar Eggers of Dittmer, Jefferson County, an employee of Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

Mrs. Buxton's head struck the top of the car, and she died of a fractured skull. She was 68 years old. Buxton suffered fractured ribs, a skull injury and a broken wrist. A grandson riding with the Buxtons was uninjured.

Eggers told Constable Adolph Bauer that he came suddenly on the Buxton automobile as he drove over the top of a hill, and was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the slow moving coupe.

Buxton will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow from the Cedar Hill residence to St. Columbkille's Church and cemetery at Byrnesville. Two sons survive.

Alton High School Boy Injured in Collision, Dies

Addison McCalla, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel McCalla of Dow, Ill., died last night at St. Joseph's Hospital, Alton, of a fractured skull suffered in an automobile accident last Sunday night. The accident occurred when McCalla's automobile crashed into a cattle truck on U. S. Highway 67, three miles west of Dow.

McCalla, a junior at Alton High School, had been employed part time at the Laclede steel mill at Alton. Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

P. T. BARNUM'S PROFILE ON NEW HALF DOLLAR

Showman's Portrait Chosen for Bridgeport Commemorative Coin Because of Philanthropies.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The profile of P. T. Barnum, the showman, will appear on a new silver half dollar—not because of his connection with the circus, but because of his philanthropies.

The Treasury disclosed today that Secretary Morgenthau and the Fine Arts Commission had approved the striking of 25,000 Barnum coins commemorating the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Bridgeport, Conn. Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, told why Barnum's profile was chosen. "Connecticut sponsors of the Bridgeport coin," she informed Morgenthau, "emphasized that they desire to pay honor to Barnum not because of his connection with the circus but because of his philanthropic and civic contributions as a citizen of Bridgeport."

ENGLISH WILL NOT CONTEST ELECTION OF GUALDONI

Recorder's Organization Becomes Twenty-Fourth Ward Jackson Democratic Club.

John P. English, Recorder of Deeds and chairman of the Democratic City Committee, who was defeated for re-election as Twenty-fourth Ward Committeeman in the primary election Aug. 4 by L. Jean Gualdoni, said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he would not contest Gualdoni's election. Gualdoni, supported by Mayor Dickmann, defeated English, the anti-administration candidate, by 349 votes.

English's organization met last night at Kingshighway and Reber place, adopted the name of the Twenty-fourth Ward Jackson Democratic Club, and decided to make plans for the November election campaign and subsequent campaign after the Democratic State platform convention at Jefferson City next month.

THREE POLICE LIEUTENANTS SLATED FOR RETIREMENT

Albert Hemholt on Force 37 Years, Dudley McDonald 35 and William O'Brien 33.

Three police lieutenants, each with more than 30 years of service, are to be retired soon, Police Department officials announced yesterday. They are Lieut. Dudley McDonald of the Carr Street District, Lieut. Albert Hemholt of the Mounted District and Lieut. William O'Brien of the Carondelet District.

Appointed in 1901, Lieut. McDonald served as a Detective Sergeant under Chief of Detectives Samuel A. Allender. Lieut. Hemholt was appointed in 1899 and has held his present rank since 1922. He was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in 1906, when he captured two robbers single-handed after a fight. In 1920 he was responsible for the capture of a robber and automobile thief, who shot him in the right hand before being subdued. Lieut. Hemholt is

69 years old and lives at 8536 Rhodes avenue. Lieut. O'Brien is at St. Anthony's Hospital, where his left leg recently was amputated, as a result of diabetes. GUARDIANS NAMED FOR TWO CHILDREN; FATHER CONSENTS

Aunt to Keep Son and Daughter of Dr. George C. W. Sutcliffe, Dentist.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kriegshauser, 1 Northside drive, York Village, were named guardians of William Patrick Sutcliffe, 11 years old, and his sister, Carillon Dione, 9, by Probate Judge A. Evan Hughes at Clayton today with the consent of the father of the children, Dr. George C. W. Sutcliffe.

A year ago Dr. Sutcliffe, a dentist, filed a habeas corpus suit to regain custody of the children who had gone to live with the Kriegshausers three years previously, after the death of their mother, who was a sister of Mrs. Kriegshauser. Later, however, Dr. Sutcliffe agreed that the children might remain in the Kriegshauser home for a year, and subsequently he dismissed his habeas corpus action. At a brief hearing yesterday Dr. Sutcliffe testified he had become convinced that the interests of the children would best be served by permitting them to remain in custody of the Kriegshausers.

FRENCH AIR FORCE BILL PASSED

Senate Votes to Approve Money for 1936 New Planes.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The Senate unanimously voted an appropriation of 2,775,000,000 francs ($185,595,000) today to finance the Government's program for modernizing the army air force during the next five years.

Under the program, 1000 new airplanes would be added to the military fleet, together with a stock of spare parts to cost 555,000,000 francs ($38,500,000) a year.

Republican Candidates for State Offices

THESE Republican nominees for state offices had lunch together yesterday at the Noonday Club. They, and the offices for which they are candidates, are, left to right: J. GRANT FRYE, attorney general; L. D. THOMPSON, secretary of state; JESSE W. BARRETT, governor; GEORGE E. HACKMANN, auditor; ARCH D. WILLIAMS, treasurer, and CHARLES C. MADISON, Supreme Court judge.

BOARD BACKS TEACHER WHO SPARED THE ROD

Pennsylvania Parents Had Asked for His Removal Because He Didn't Whip Children.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 12.—Anthony Munley, 60-year-old teacher, who spared the rod, was given the full approval of his school board today and promised a better position.

Munley, teacher at the one-room school in Langan's Settlement, had been the center of a bitter community argument. At a stormy meeting recently, the parents of 11 of his 16 students asked for his removal because he didn't whip their children or make them do homework.

"We find no fault with this just man," John B. Corcoran, chairman of the Pittsboro Township School Board, announced last night. "Mr. Munley acted conscientiously as a school teacher and in strict compliance with his duties as a teacher."

G. O. P. NOMINEES HOLD CONFERENCE

Will Make State Campaign Largely on Clean Election Issue.

Republican nominees for State offices held their first conference, since last week's primary election, at the Noonday Club yesterday as luncheon guests of former Attorney General Jesse W. Barrett, gubernatorial candidate.

Clean elections and economy in the State administration will be points of emphasis in Barrett's campaign speech, he said. State issues will be discussed rather than national questions, Barrett indicated, adding that a speaker from the National Republican Committee's Speakers' Bureau will accompany him on most platforms.

"Clean elections will be one of the major points," Barrett said. "Pendergastism can't exist with clean elections, any more than good government can exist without clean elections."

How Barrett Figures Vote. In predicting a victory for the Republican ticket by a majority of 100,000, Barrett assumed that the vote of about 180,000 cast for William Hirth in the Democratic primary was entirely a protest vote against Boss Pendergast of Kansas City, who endorsed Maj. Lloyd C. Stark, Barrett's opponent in November.

By getting the 300,000 votes of 600,000 persons who did not participate in the primary election but who would vote in November.

Candidates who attended the office for which they were nominated were: George E. Hackmann, State Auditor; Arch D. Williams, State Treasurer; J. Grant Frye, Attorney General; Charles C. Madison, Supreme Judge, and L. D. Thompson, Secretary of State.

Grover V. Dalton of Poplar Bluff, chairman of the Republican State Committee, also was present.

Manvel H. Davis of Kansas City, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, and Conway Elder, St. Louis, nominee for Supreme Judge, did not attend.

The Republican convention for organization of the State Committee will be held at Jefferson City Sept. 8. State headquarters will be opened in St. Louis next week.

Election Board Corrects Error on Jesse W. Barrett's Vote. The Board of Election Commissioners, after first certifying to the Secretary of State's office that Jesse W. Barrett had failed to carry his home precinct, the sixteenth of the Twenty-fifth Ward, in the primary election, discovered yesterday that an error had been made and ordered the returns for that precinct corrected.

The correct vote for the Republican candidates for the nomination for Governor in this precinct gave Jesse Barrett 52 votes, James J. Barrett three votes and Claude L. Lambert two votes. In the returns as originally certified, James Barrett was given 52 votes and Jesse Barrett three votes. Lambert's total was the same in both cases. A clerical error, responsible for crediting the 52 votes to James Barrett in the first instance.

Thompson Company Boat Ride. The J. R. Thompson Co. restaurant will have their annual boat ride tonight on the steamer St. Paul. Preparations have been made for about 1000 guests, among them J. R. Thompson, president of the company, and S. D. Goldenberg and H. M. Hendriksen, vice-presidents. The group will include, in addition to employees from the St. Louis restaurants, groups from Quincy, Peoria and Springfield. The entertainment is under the direction of L. J. Trainor, district superintendent.

PRINCE ALI ARRESTED ON MAIL FRAUD CHARGE

Missouri Farmer Indicted
Medical Diploma Plot
Held in Reading, Pa.

"Prince Ali Yehia Debeh," short farm boy, who became an arthritis specialist after he acquired a fake medical diploma,
was arrested yesterday in Reading, Pa., on an indictment voted by the jury, charging him with obtaining the diploma by fraud.

Debeh—he says that really some time in connection with diploma fraud conspiracy alleged to have been started by George Lindsay of Kansas City. Lindsay and five others are under indictment for the conspiracy and are scheduled to go to trial before Judge Charles B. Davis Oct. 2. Two of those originally involved have pleaded guilty, but accused have been deferred.

Postoffice inspectors had been

He was later released, but in an indictment voted a month ago suppressed at the time, Debeh

PRINCE ALI' ARRESTED ON MAIL FRAUD CHARGE

Missouri Farmer Indicted in Medical Diploma Plot Is Held in Reading, Pa.

"Prince Ali Yehia Debeh," Missouri farm boy, who became an "arthritis specialist" after he had acquired a fake medical diploma,
was arrested yesterday in Reading,
Pa., on an indictment voted in St.
Louis recently by the Federal grand jury, charging him with using the diploma to defraud.

Debeh—he says that really is his name—had been sought for some time in connection with the diploma fraud conspiracy alleged to have been started by George M.
Lindsay of Kansas City. Lindsay and five others are under indictment for the conspiracy and are scheduled to go to trial before Federal Judge Charles B. Davis on Oct.
24. Two of those originally indicted have pleaded guilty, but sentence has been deferred.

Postoffice inspectors had brought Debeh here in February, 1935, as a witness against those indicted.
He was later released, but in a new indictment voted a month ago and suppressed at the time, Debeh was included.

How He Was Found.
Postoffice Inspector A. W. Burt, while in Philadelphia recently, learned that Debeh was living in Reading and requested his arrest.
Debeh either will be brought here for arraignment or be placed under bond in Reading for the trial.
But said that Debeh had promised to cease holding himself out as a licensed chiropractor and to help the government in the case, and that for that reason he was not originally indicted. It was found, however, that Debeh was again posing as an "arthritis expert" in Reading.

When he was in St. Louis in 1935
Debeh told Postoffice inspectors that he had paid Lindsay $2500 for a fake medical diploma and a chiropractic license to practice in Arkansas and that he had given $2500 to a man recommended by Lindsay who was to get him a license to practice in Missouri. He never did get the Missouri license, he said.

His Arkansas license never did him much good, he complained, adding that the only patient he had in an entire year was a rheumatic Negro woman who paid him $2.
Later, however, he said he had more luck in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Other Defendants.
Those who have pleaded guilty of the mail fraud charge are Arthur E. Krebs, former St. Louis chiropractor, and Mrs. Myrtle Long, former secretary of the Iowa State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.
They are expected to be Government witnesses when the trial, continued several times, finally gets under way.

Besides Lindsay the others under indictment are Lindsay's step-son, George M. Lindsay Jr.; Dr. Dale R. Alexander, former head of the defunct Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery; Claude E.
Laws, former secretary of the Arkansas Eclectic Medical Board;
William T. Gallagher of Kansas City; and John E. Hamilton of Fort Worth, Tex.

All are either in jail or under bond. Lindsay's son was brought back to jail here last December after he had been taken to Chicago to face trial on a Federal charge of transporting stolen securities. He was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary on that charge.

TWO WOMEN EMPLOYEES HELD UP IN ICE CREAM STORE

Two Men Gie $30 at 2323 Gravois
—Shoe Store Proprietor Robbed
After Leaving Place.

Margaret Christoffel and Della Mosbacher, employees of an ice cream store at 2323 Gravois avenue, were held up by two men armed with revolvers, who entered the store at 11:30 o'clock last night and ordered the women to face the wall and keep quiet. The robbers took $30 from the cash register and fled after telling their victims not to give the alarm for five minutes.
Police later arrested a former convict, who was identified as one of the robbers by Miss Christoffel.

Herman Schuartz, proprietor of the Paris-Hub Shoe Co., 1726 Franklin avenue, was robbed of $88 by two men who held up him and his clerk, Edward Seidel, at Eighteenth street and Delmar boulevard at 10 o'clock last night. Schuartz and Seidel had closed the store and waited to the corner, where the robbers stepped up from behind.
One drew a revolver and ordered the shoe dealer and his clerk to make no outcry. The second robber took Schuartz's watch and wallet from his pockets.

FATHER COUGHLIN'S BISHOP EXPLAINS MATTERS TO POPE

Convinces Vatican Priests' Activities Merit Neither Action Nor Censure.

By the Associated Press.

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 12.—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin's political activities were discussed by Pope Pius XI and Bishop Michael Gallagher of Detroit, Vatican prelates disclosed today, but were explained satisfactorily.

The visit, they said, ended any possible doubt concerning Father Coughlin's activities in the minds of Vatican officials and bore out Bishop Gallagher's insistence that the matter warranted neither action nor censure by the Pope.

30,797 MISSOURIANS PAY SPECIAL GOVERNMENT TAXES

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The Internal Revenue Bureau reported yesterday 30,797 Missourians paid special taxes during the year ended June 30.

Missouri, the report showed, had six rectifiers of distilled spirits who paid $200 each, and five who paid $100 each. One manufacturer of stills paid $50.

A total of 149 wholesale liquor dealer stamps and 529 retail liquor dealer stamps were issued in the State. The wholesalers paid $100 each and the retailers $25 each. Five $25 stamps for retailing medicinal liquors were issued.

Seventeen brewers paid $100 each. Stamps were issued to 186 wholesalers of fermented malt liquors at $50 each, and 3284 retail dealers at $25 each.

Roosevelt Drouth Tour Plans.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Roosevelt announced he would leave here Aug. 25 on a tour of middle western drouth areas. He conferred yesterday with Morris L. They plan to meet Roosevelt on Aug. 27, probably at Pierre, S. D.

PERMANENT VOTE LISTING ON EITHER SIDE OF ST. LOUIS

Both East St. Louis and St. Louis County Will Install New Registration Systems This Year.

10 ILLINOIS CITIES UNDER NEW LAW

Thorough Check of Voters Provided, With Signatures on Election Day Compared to Originals.

Permanent registration systems will be installed this year on each side of St. Louis—in East St. Louis under the new Illinois City Election Act, and in St. Louis County under an act of the 1935 Legislature. In St. Louis permanent registration is still in the stage of preliminary discussion, with a view to introduction of a bill in the Legislature early next year.

East St. Louis' first registration under the new Illinois law will be held Oct. 3 and 13. Registrations will be held on the same day in eight other Illinois cities to which the law applies, Springfield, Bloomington, Rockford, Peoria, Galesburg, Danville, Aurora and Cairo. In Chicago the dates will be one week earlier.

On the day named, registration will be conducted at the precinct polling places by a judge and two deputy registrars, appointed by the Board of Election Commissioners on a basis of political affiliation. Each party will have a deputy registrar in each precinct; the judges one to a precinct. Will be Democrats in the even-numbered precincts and Republicans in the odd ones.

Each person registering must sign a record form giving personal data, and must make affidavit to place and length of residence. If questioned by a registration official, the applicant may be required to appear before the Election Board and furnish proof of eligibility.

October 14 and 15, the two deputy registrars of each precinct will canvass their precincts, and will note names "died," "removed" or "not found." Persons refusing to answer the canvassers' questions, or giving them false information, are subject to arrest and fine. Cards will be sent to persons "not found," and a board of revision will hold hearings Oct. 19 and 20, to reinstate those proving their claims and strike off others.

Comparison of Signatures.

On election day, each person asking for a ballot must sign a card, and the signature must be compared with that on the registration record. In case of doubt, the precinct judge may question the applicant as to the personal data on the registration record.

The Election Board will keep a master registry, and will send duplicate lists to the polling places on election day. Any person failing to vote for four years will be notified to appear within 30 days and apply for retention, otherwise his or her name will be canceled. The registry is to be revised every presidential year, the next time in 1940. Those who move, and women who change their names by marriage, can make the necessary changes of record by notice to the Election Board.

Persons moving to East St. Louis, or coming of voting age after the October registration, may register at the Election Board's office, 17 North Main street up to 30 days before a general election, 20 days before a primary or a state and county election and 10 days before a special or judicial election.

Thomas F. Coonan, chief clerk of the Election Board, estimated a saving of $5000 every four years would be effected by elimination of the old general quadrennial registrations.

Change in the County.

St. Louis County will hold on Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 3, a registration which, as stated by the 1935 legislative act, "shall be and shall remain to be permanent in its effect."

Thereafter, revisions in the lists will be made through applications to the Election Board at its monthly meetings, and transfers for removal may be made by personal application or by mail, the signature to be compared with that on record.

Each applicant must sign three cards, of which the Election Board will keep one on file and will send two, made up into books, to the precincts. The law requires the books of cards for precinct use to be sealed with metal seals, applied and removed in the presence of all the precinct election officials. The precinct officials will be four judges and two clerks, evenly divided as to party.

Those unable to write, the law provides, may make an identifying mark. The Election Board's present plan is to take the right thumb-print of such persons. Names of those who have not voted for two years will be canceled, after a notice of suspension by mail.

Challenged Voter Must Sign.

The law does not require every voter to sign his or her name when applying for a ballot, but anyone whose right to vote is challenged will be required to sign a card.

Then, the law says, "if a majority of the judges find that he or she is not the person whose name appears in the books of registry, he or she shall not be entitled to vote, and they (judges) shall cause his or her immediate arrest on the charge of impersonating a voter." This, the statute goes on to say, is a felony, punishable by imprisonment up to five years.

Provision is made for a regular check, through vital statistics and court records, of names which should be stricken from the lists because of death or conviction of crime.

Forest Fire on Summer Resort Island in Lake Superior

MEN in boat watching flames which have been raging for a week on Isle Royale, a Michigan beauty spot. Eighteen hundred men are fighting the fire, which has swept over 27,000 acres, a fourth of the island.

Flames in Bennett, Wis., Area Shift Direction — Another Blaze Crosses Into Minnesota.
 By the Associated Press.
 ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 12.—Conditions in Northern Minnesota, spotted with dangerous brush and timber fires, never have been so serious. Grover Conzel, State Forester, said today. He said "the situation is growing worse daily."
 His announcement came with fresh outbreaks of forest and brush fires in Minnesota and Wisconsin.
 Simultaneously, E. V. Willard of the State Conservation Commission, left by airplane for the fire districts.
 Previously reinforcements had been sent to the danger points.
 "We fear a high wind will whip many of the fires out of control," said Conzel. "We are buying fire-fighting equipment and getting it into the areas as rapidly as possible, but we can't get enough equipment.
 We are shopping by wire and telephone all over the United States in an attempt to buy all the hose available."

800 Fight Wisconsin Fire.
 Eight hundred men fought the Bennett fire in upper Wisconsin as it again changed direction and threatened both Bennett and Hawthorne, directly in its path. Hawthorne residents were ready to leave their homes. There was a heavy rain last night, but none fell in the path of the fire, which flared anew.
 In Minnesota, near the Canadian boundary, a timber and brush fire roared out of control in the unsettled Kabetogama Peninsula country. Fighters were hampered since the fire was in an almost inaccessible region and men and equipment had to be transported by water.

Flames that originated 20 miles south of Superior, Wis., charred more than 9000 acres of forests and leaped across the Minnesota border near Duxbury. Two hundred men and equipment were rushed to the aid of a crew of 650 struggling to stem the fire.
 Residents of the Chaffey (Wis.) section fled. Anxious vigils were kept in the villages of Kingsdale and Clovorton, Minn.
 Three serious fires worried Roseau County rangers in the Bel-tram Island state forest in Minnesota. Civilian Conservation Corps youths and others who had been employed in the fight in other districts were released for service there.

Isle Royale Fire Still Raging.
 Fire that has swept over 27,000 acres of timberland on Isle Royale Mich., in Lake Superior, moved within a mile of a Chippewa Harbor resort. Guests departed Sunday night from the tavern and tourist camp operated by Holger Johnson, when the fire still was six miles distant. The motor ship Mary Margaret and a cutter stood by to take off the Johnson family, year-round residents, unless rain or a shift in wind checks the flames.

The steamer "Seminole" and the naval training ship "Peducach" carried 600 CCC youths from Wisconsin to the assistance of 1200 others trying to halt the fire. About one-fourth of Isle Royale has been burned over. Summer visitors at resorts on the eastern end of the island were not yet endangered.
 Northern Minnesota property losses were estimated at $250,000 by Senator George Lommen of Eveleth.
 Supervisor R. U. Harmon of the Superior National Forest, said Government expense in fighting the fires amounted to $30,000 to date.
 The body of Andrew Leims, 70 years old, was found near Palo in Northwestern Minnesota. He was burned to death in a week-end fire that damaged 22 farms.

HAMILTON ACCUSES ROOSEVELT
HUSING'S BRIDE GETS DIVORCE OF FOSTERING CLASS DIVISION

Says "We Cannot Treat Lightly the Attempt of President to Set Class Against Class."
 By the Associated Press.
 PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 12.— John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in an address here last night, said:
 "We cannot treat lightly the attempt, however ineffective we think it may be, of the President of the United States who would set class against class—a President who has sworn to uphold the Constitution."
 He alluded to the "declaration of war" which he said was sounded by President Roosevelt in the latter's acceptance speech in June, and said that "by a process of elimination" the economic royalists, termed the objects of the President's attack, must be "the owners of American business."
 Referring again to the President's address, Hamilton said: "It might be possible to let a single speech pass as a slip, but we have too many other evidences among Mr. Roosevelt's supporters that the warfare of class against class is their design."

Child Actress in Guardianship Suit

EDITH FELLOWS, 13 years old, with her grandmother, MRS. ELIZABETH L. FELLOWS. The child's mother, Mrs. Harriett Fellows, is seeking to have the guardianship papers obtained by the grandmother set aside.

MOTHER OF CHILD ACTRESS TELLS OF EFFORT TO SELL HER

Father of Edith Fellows Once Offered Her to Dancing School for $5000 Witness Says.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 12.—Filmland's latest custody fight produced a charge today that the father of 13-year-old Edith Fellows once offered her "for sale" to a dancing school.

The child actress' mother, Mrs. Harriett Fellows, testified her former husband, Willis Fellows, had asked a "price" of $5000 for their daughter.

Mrs. Fellows, suing Edith's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Fellows, for her custody, said she allowed the woman to take Edith on a trip in 1926 and did not see the child again until 1932. "I learned in 1932 that my daughter was in Hollywood and I worked as a waitress and in a laundry to save enough money to come here," the mother said.

Edith, who has shown talent in "problem children" roles, has been in several recent movies.

ADMITS SLASHING WOMAN WHO WAS KILLED AT HOSPITAL

Man Arrested on Coroner's Warrant Said to Have Been Jealous.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 12.—Joseph McElroy, of New Haven, 47-year-old war veteran, was held incommunicado in the New Haven County jail today, on a Coroner's warrant in connection with the killing of Mrs. Anna Mae Johnson, 32, maid at the New Haven Hospital.

Deputy Coroner Nathan G. Sachs, who held an inquest after McElroy's arrest last night, said the man admitted he lay in wait for Mrs. Johnson Monday night on a stair landing of the hospital dormitory and slashed her throat. Detectives said jealousy was a motive for the killing.

Mrs. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Greenhalgh of Centralia, Ill., had been acquainted with McElroy for some time, Sachs said, but recently tried to break off the friendship.

Before McElroy's arrest the Coroner said that a note had been found on Mrs. Johnson's body in which she said her life had been threatened. On a moment before her death the young woman told two acquaintances whom she met at the dormitory entrance that she was afraid to go into the building alone.

100,000 FARMERS
IN STATE NEED HELPEstimate Made by Director of Emergency Council After Drouth Survey.

Robert K. Ryland, State director of the National Emergency Council, departed today for Washington, to confer on Missouri drouth relief needs with Lyle T. Alverson, acting executive assistant of the Council.

Ryland said he would recommend an immediate program to give work relief to 57,000 farmers in the State and a plan to lend money for seed and fodder to 60,000 farmers. His estimates of the extent of drouth damage are based, he said, on a survey of every county. This survey showed there will be an acute shortage of pasture throughout the State even if there is general rain.

"The situation is like that which follows a tornado or some other catastrophe," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Work relief is urgently needed to keep many of the farmers off direct relief, and the type of work I will recommend will be that which keeps them near their farms—conservation, gully control, well-digging, and the construction of reservoirs."

A total of 100,000 Missouri farmers will need relief of some sort, Ryland said. Many will require both work relief and feed and seed loans.

Mrs. Robert E. Lee Hurt in Auto. Mrs. Robert E. Lee, 4525 Lindell boulevard, widow of the general manager of the St. Louis Automobile Dealers' Association, suffered cuts and bruises last Thursday when an automobile she was driving collided with a taxicab in Montreal, Canada, where she is visiting friends. A woman riding with her was also slightly injured.

400-METER FREE STROKE
won by Jack Medica, United States, 4:44.3 (new Olympic record). Former mark of 4:45.5 made by Uto (Japan, 4:45.6; third). Makino, Japan, 4:53.8; fourth. Flanagan, United States, 4:52.7; fifth. Hiroshi Negami, Japan, 4:53.6; sixth. Taka, Japan, 4:53.8; seventh. Bob Leivers, Great Britain, 5:00.9; eighth.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 12.—A smashing performance by Medica of Seattle gave the States her first Olympic swimming victory today. husky Pacific Coast star won the 400 meter free style championship in 4 minutes 44.3 seconds. 13-year-old Marjorie Gestrin, Angeles and her team swept the springboard diving championship.

The "Seattle seal" came from behind to overtake Japan's Shumpei Uto in the last 20 meters and clip one full second off Uto in the preliminary trials. Uto's time, however, was considerably slower than the world record of 4:38.7 made two years ago by Shozo Makino of Japan. Medica's time, however, was 4:44.3 in yesterday's semifinal. Third, with Ralph Flanagan, Miami, the only other American finalist, taking fourth.

Medica Overtakes Leader
Medica and Uto swam a dead heat for the first 200 meters and then the 18-year-old Japanese went out strongly and opened up a sizeable lead. When Uto turned 300 meters was more than a length in and the crowd thought the race was over. Medica slowly quickened his stroke and reduced his opponent's margin to length with 50 meters to go. Then proceeded to overhaul Uto with a brilliant spurt as Uto appeared to weaken. Uto's time, 4:45.6, one-tenth of a second slower than his former mark.

Makino, in third place, clocked in 4:53.1; Flanagan, Hiroshi Negami, Japan, 4:53.8; Taka, France, 4:53.8; and Bob Leivers, Great Britain, 5:00.9. Before the championship Miss Gestrin and Katherine of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Dorothy Poynton Hill of Los Angeles were also in the running.

WAR-TORN SPORTSMAN'S PARK—As Usual the Umpires Won the Battle

Left—Frisch, Durocher, Gonzales and Mize trying vainly to point out to Umpire Bill Stewart the error of his decision at second base in the ninth inning of yesterday's game between the Cardinals and Chicago Cubs.
Right—Umpire Barr attempts to explain the futility of a prolonged argument, but all he gets is a lot of choice words and dirty looks from Frisch, Mize and Coach Wares.

JOE'S DOUBLE IN SECOND LEADS TO RUN; ST JOHNSON HURLS

By Dent McSkimming

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, Aug. 12.—In the hope of holding onto his slim one-game first-place advantage, Manager Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs sent his ace pitcher, Larry French, against the Cardinals in the third and final game of the series.

Manager Frisch gave his newest pitcher, Silas Johnson, big right-hander, a chance to pitch the Cards back into the lead. Johnson arrived here a few days ago from Toronto of the International League.

Bill Stewart, the umpire whose bad decision at second base precipitated a near riot in the ninth inning yesterday, was behind the plate where he could easily hear what the Cardinal players might have to say about his eyesight and judgment.

The Cardinals are idle tomorrow. They will play an exhibition game in St. Paul Friday and open in Pittsburgh Saturday.

The game originally scheduled for Pittsburgh on Friday has been rescheduled to form a double-header Sunday.

Goetz and Barr were the other umpires.

The attendance was estimated at about 15,000.

FIRST INNING—CUBS—Allen flied to Fullis. Hack was called out on strikes. Durocher threw out Herman.

CARDINALS—Moore flied to Galan. So did Frisch. Jurgens threw out Fullis.

SECOND—CUBS—Demaree singled to center. O'Dea forced Demaree. Frisch to Durocher. Galan singled to right, sending O'Dea to third. Jurgens lined to Fullis, both runners holding their bases. Cavaretta singled to left, scoring O'Dea. French fouled to Davis. ONE RUN.

CARDINALS—Medwick doubled off the right field screen. Herman threw out Mize. Medwick moving to third. Davis flied deep to Demaree. Medwick scoring. Durocher struck out. ONE RUN.

THIRD—CUBS—Allen flied to Medwick. Hack dropped a single. Frisch flied to Fullis. Jurgens flied to Fullis. Galan flied to Fullis. THIRD INNING—CUBS—Galan flied to Medwick. Jurgens popped to Durocher. Frisch threw out Cavaretta.

CARDINALS—Herman threw out Frisch. Fullis struck out. Medwick hit a home run, his first in the series, into the right field pavilion seats, just above the 374 mark. Mize singled to center. Davis lined to Galan. ONE RUN.

FIVE—CUBS—French fouled to Davis. Allen singled to left. Hack forced Allen. Garibaldi to Frisch. Hack stole second. Herman popped to Frisch.

CARDINALS—French threw out Durocher. Garibaldi flied to Demaree. Jurgens threw out Johnson.

SIXTH—CUBS—Demaree singled to right for his third straight hit. O'Dea flied to Fullis. Galan popped to Mize. Jurgens flied to Medwick.

AL MARCHAND OF KANSAS CITY BLUES STABBED IN ROW

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—Dr. D. M. Nigro, club physician, said today that Al Marchand, right fielder for the Kansas City American Association team, will be out of the lineup for two weeks as the result of stab wounds suffered here last night in an altercation with a parking station attendant.

Dr. Nigro said he had taken two stitches in Marchand's right hand and four in his back.

Marchand told police the attendant stabbed him with a pocket knife after an argument over the way Marchand's car had been parked.

The parking lot attendant, Charles F. Long, 26 years old, was booked by police for investigation.

Managers' Choice. Mel Harder has been a member of three American League All-Star teams but he never was elected by the vote of the fans. The managers chose him.

ROSALIND WINS 'HAMBLETONIAN'

By the Associated Press.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Rosalind, a daughter of Scotland, owned by 21-year-old Gibson White of Lexington, Ky., this afternoon won the eleventh Hambletonian, taking the second and final heat in 2:02 1/4 after capturing the first in 2:01 1/4, before a crowd of 45,000 at Good Time Park.

Ben White, father of the filly's owner, drove Rosalind home three lengths in front of W. N. Reynolds' Ed Lasater, also trained by White, in the second mile after beating Lawrence P. Sheppard's Bronie Hanover of Hanover, Pa., by a like margin in the first heat.

The victory, achieved in the fastest time ever recorded by a Hambletonian winner, netted Rosalind's youthful owner $19,669.11. She went to the post the even money choice to capture the first heat and was held at the short odds of 3 to 5 in the second mile to take trotting's richest stake, which had a gross value of $35,643.83.

Rosalind won the second heat as she did the first. She jumped to the front soon after the start, set all the pace and finished well in hand. The daughter of Scotland was a length in front of Pinero at the quarter pole, increased the margin to two lengths at the half-mile marker with Brownie Hanover in second place and then staved off Ed Lasater's bid in the stretch.

Brownie Hanover could do no better than fourth in the final brush, but took runner-up honors of the purse, or $7,188.77. Ed Lasater, sixth in the first heat after breaking near the half-mile post, carried off third money of $4,323.26.

Ruth M. Mac, owned by C. B. Shaffer's Coldstream stud of Lexington, which was eighth in the first heat, loosed fast to take third in the deciding test. Then came Brownie Hanover, Peter Song, Clova, Pinero, Hollywood Hermes, Gaiety Mite and Recovery, which broke into a gallop soon after the start.

Japanese Too Good, American Swimmers Unite in Swan-Song

By John E. Wray.

Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN (By Cable), Aug. 12.—America may lead the world in the swan dive, but its swan song in swimming will be heard soon against our four best men, Ralph Flanagan, Jack Medica, Johnny Macdonis and Paul Wolf, Masanori Yusa, Shigeo Sugiyama, Shoji Taguchi and Shigeo Arita took a small lead over Flanagan, increased it over Macdonis and Wolf and held it against the frantic efforts of the anchor man, Medica.

The Japanese have something on the ball in swimming. The little brown men are also good, especially Hideko Maehata, Japanese winner of the only other swimming final, the 200-meter breast stroke. Miss Maehata is built like a little brown truck. Incidentally she holds the world record for the "200."

There were no cheers for America.

Wray's Column From Berlin

By John E. Wray.

Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, August. SPEED seems to be the keynote of the Olympics. Even the colors are fast. Although rain fell day after day on the miles and miles of bunting and the veritable forests of national standards all over the city, this writer saw no instance of colors that "ran." Flags remained normal despite the drenching.

Imagine what a city-wide decoration scheme in America would look like after the colors had been subjected to a week's drenching.

Which recalls that shortly before America entered the World war, a German submarine, the Deutschland, crossed the Atlantic and landed at Baltimore carrying a small cargo of German dyes, of which this country was then sorely in need.

They Do It Right. WATCHES used by officials in the Olympic Games are of the very finest made and would

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Rogers Hornsby's Browns were defeated by the Chicago White Sox this afternoon in the second game of a series of three.

The Score was 8 to 3. Zeke Bonura's home run in the fifth inning knocked Knott out of the box and he was replaced by Glenn Liebhardt.

Some 5000 fans saw the White Sox resume their drive for a second-place berth. The Comiskey team was three and one-half games out of fourth place.

WASHINGTON CREW BETTERS RECORD IN OLYMPIC REGATTA

HUSKIES' EIGHT IS FORCED TO LIMIT TO WIN FROM BRITISH

United States Pair-Oared and Four Are Badly Defeated in Opening Trial Events.

By the Associated Press.

GRUNAU, Aug. 12.—Taken unaware by a strong British challenge, the University of Washington's crew turned loose power today and cracked all Olympic records in winning the first heat of eight-oared rowing competition.

Trailing most of the way after a slow start, the Huskies flashed a sensational spurt and overhauled the British in the last few strokes, to win by a scant half length in 6 minutes 8 seconds.

This time smashed the Grunau course record of 6:09, set by the Hungarians, as well as the former Olympic standard of 6:03.2 established by California at Amsterdam in 1928. The British, rowing a beautiful race, also were under both records with their clocking of 6:01.1.

The victory qualified the Huskies, Poughkeepsie champions, for Friday's final, but it took all the power they had to make the grade.

With the stroke oar, Don Hume of Olympia, Wash., still underweight as a result of a severe cold, the Huskies started slowly and trailed the field during the early stages as the Japanese, with their fantastically high heat that ranged between 40 and 50 strokes to the minute, set the early pace.

25,000 Cheer Winners.

Great Britain pulled into the lead, however, after 1000 meters, and Washington, finally hitting its stride, pulled out after them. They found the Britons disinclined to come back into them, and Hume had to send the boat up to 38 in a great finishing drive, to send the Huskies' shell across the finish line in front as 25,000 spectators yelled their approval of the stirring battle.

Far back of the leaders trailed France, clocked in 6:11.6; Japan, 6:12.3; and Czechoslovakia, 6:28.4. Hume, who scaled only 158 pounds, seven pounds under his best weight, was "all out" after the hard finish. The rest of the crew waited nearly a minute after the finish to give Hume a chance to regain his breath before starting for the boat-house where Al Ulbricksen, the coach, greeted them quietly with "well work, boys."

"That was a much harder race than we expected," Ulbricksen said later. "The effect on Hume is the only thing that's worrying us but I believe the extra day's rest will bring him around. He's been a sick boy but has been recovering his strength steadily despite the fact he still is much underweight."

"The boys rowed the race exactly as ordered but the opposition was tougher than we had looked for. Still, half a length is pretty good."

Likely All-Time Record.

Ulbricksen was under the impression that Navy's 1920 crew beat six minutes for 2000 meters but otherwise it is doubtful that the Huskies' time this afternoon ever has been touched in any kind of water.

The American rowers' spirit peaked in the last half minute in which they took 21 strokes, Ulbricksen said.

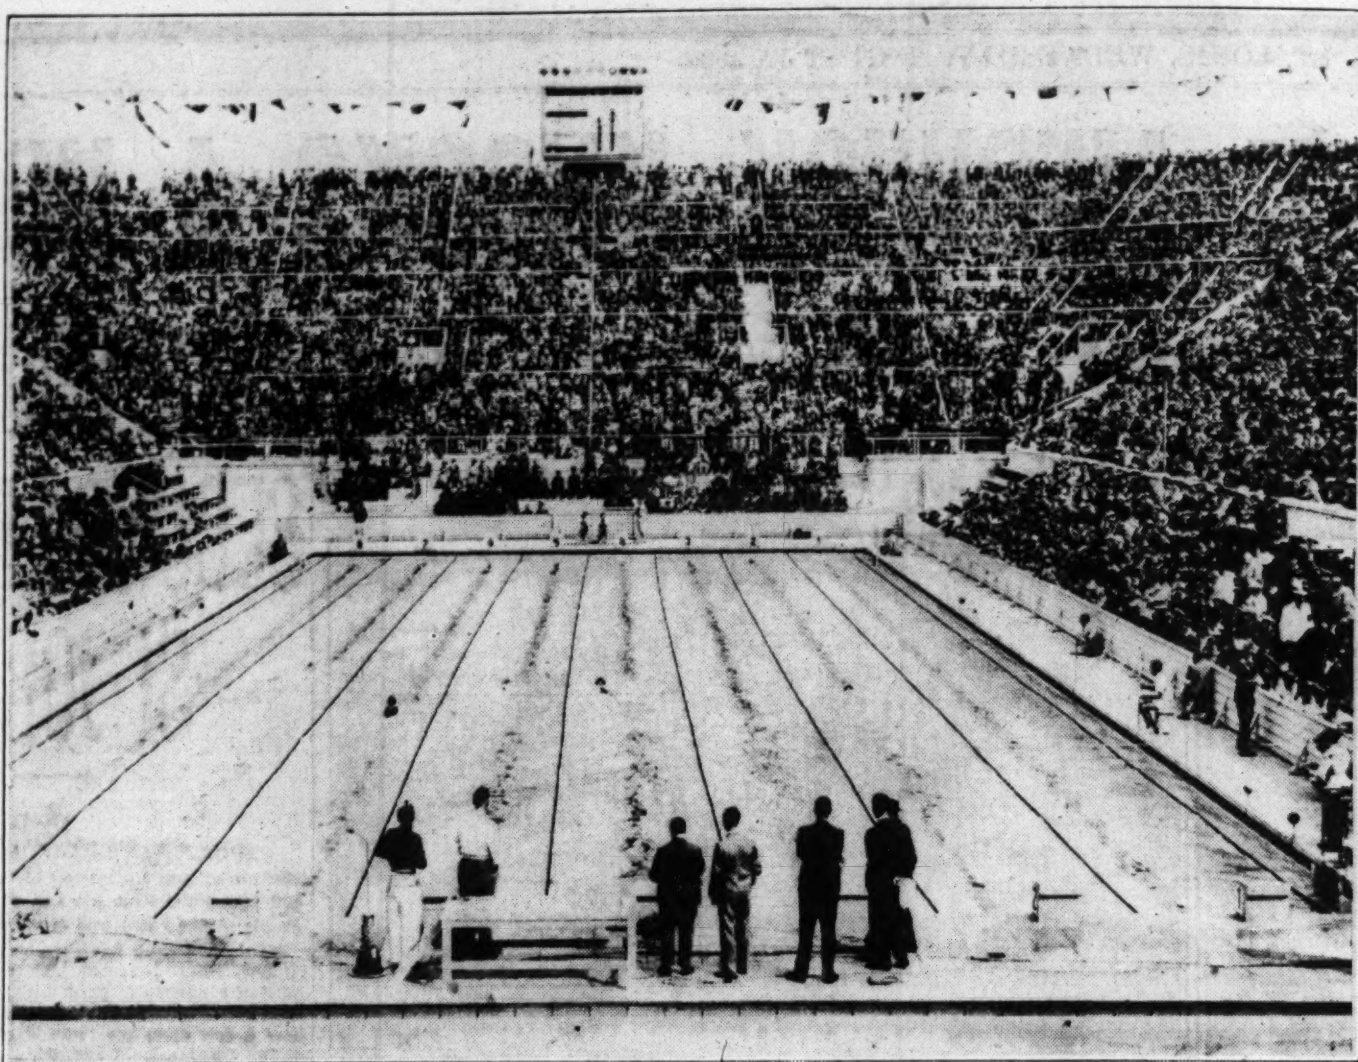

Coxswain Bob Moch of Montebello, Wash., conceded the crew had started badly, fifth and last to be exact, but said the Huskies quickly had settled down and kept the British within range.

"They never were much more than half a length in front of us," he said, "but they showed the real stuff."

Hungary won the second heat in eight-oared competition in 6:07.6, beating the Italian, Canadian, Australian and Brazilians in that order. The third and last heat went to the Swiss in six minutes, 44 seconds with Germany second in 6:08.5, Yugoslavia third in 6:09.3 and Denmark fourth in 6:13. This marked Germany's first defeat of any kind during the first two days of the regatta.

The United States entry for pair-oared shells with coxswain was badly beaten in the opening heat.

AUBUCHONS AND ARKANSANS TO PLAY TOMORROW

The Aubuchon-Dennison Post's baseball team, State champions, departed this morning for El Dorado, Ark., for a two-out-of-three game series with the Arkansas State champions of that town, starting tomorrow afternoon.

Only one member of the 14-man squad was unable to go this morning, and he is going to take a train tonight and reach El Dorado in time to take part in tomorrow's contest. He is Harley Nepper, pitcher.

The winner of the series will qualify for the sectional round of play in the American Legion Junior Baseball competition.

Members of the squad making the trip are: Gene Dowling, third baseman; Howard Wamhoff and Gene Halcy, pitchers; Ted Johns, Herb Vallat, Jack Roehk, Dan Josted and Lou Kisel, outfielders; Richard Moran and Lee Tevis, catchers; Jack Bowers, first baseman; Bob Blattner, second baseman, and Harry Kahre, shortstop.

others. A 12-year-old pint-sized coxswain steered France perfectly and got a big hand from the German crowd.

The winner's time was 7:38.4 with Denmark clocked in 7:41.1. Trailing back of the leaders, in order, were Switzerland, 7:48.7; Yugoslavia, 7:53.4; Japan, 7:55.5; and Holland, 7:56.0.

U. S. Four Defeated.

Germany registered another decisive victory, keeping her slate clean through five events, by outrowing four rivals including the Buffalo quartet, in the heats for four-oared shells without coxswain. The Buffalo crew was fifth and last in the heat.

The Americans were third at 1000 meters, trailing Germany and Austria by five and two lengths, respectively, but slipped back and finally lost a battle with the Hungarians for fourth place by a half length. Germany was clocked in 6:22.5; Austria, 6:32.1; Denmark, 6:36.8; Hungary, 6:40.7, United States, 6:41.4.

The American four was made up of Alfred Sapecky, Gene Freuhau, George Hague and James Thomson, all of Buffalo.

Britons Finally Defeated.

The British, who never had been beaten in competition for four-oared crews without coxswain, in previous Olympics, took a licking from Switzerland's rugged quartet in the second heat. The British beat off the Italians in a hard fight during the early stages, but did not have a spurt to match the Swiss over the last 300 meters, and the Swiss pulled away to win by open water in 6:30.8, Italy, 6:34.5 and Holland 6:46.0.

America's double scullers, William Dugan and John Houser, found the pace too hot in their heat and were decisively beaten by the smooth-stroking Frenchmen, Griat and Jaquet, and wound up in a virtual tie for fourth place with Australia.

By W. J. McGoogan.
George Nichols, southpaw light-heavyweight from Buffalo, N. Y., will try to stop the St. Louis victor in the first round of the 10-round fight between him and Joe Louis, world's light-heavyweight champion, in the Auditorium tonight.

Should Nichols be successful he would be the first of several boxers who have tried the issue with John Louis in St. Louis rings, for, before last Oct. 31 when he wrestled the 175-pound crown from Bob Jones at the Arena, Lewis has met and defeated here Al Stillman and Ray Sturch by knockouts and Ed Simms on points.

Nichols was once the recognized 175-pound champion of the National Boxing Association, having won the title in an elimination tournament at Chicago where he was held to a 10-9 decision by the late Ed Simms.

The game has been played for almost two years in New York and practically nowhere else in the United States. It originated in Germany, where considerable proficiency has been developed.

Six countries entered teams for this event.

George Kojac's mark, set in 1923 at Amsterdam in winning his heat in the 100-meter backstroke event, was 1:07.4, made by Albert Wendt, a German, in 1923.

The Chicagoan's performance also lowered the listed world record of 1:07.4, made by Albert Wendt, a German, in 1923.

Elizabeth Ryan, Mavis Freeman, Bernice Lapp and Olive McKenna, comprising the U. S. 400-meter relay team, fought off a strenuous challenge from Great Britain's quartet to win their heat by a foot in 4:47.1 and gain the final.

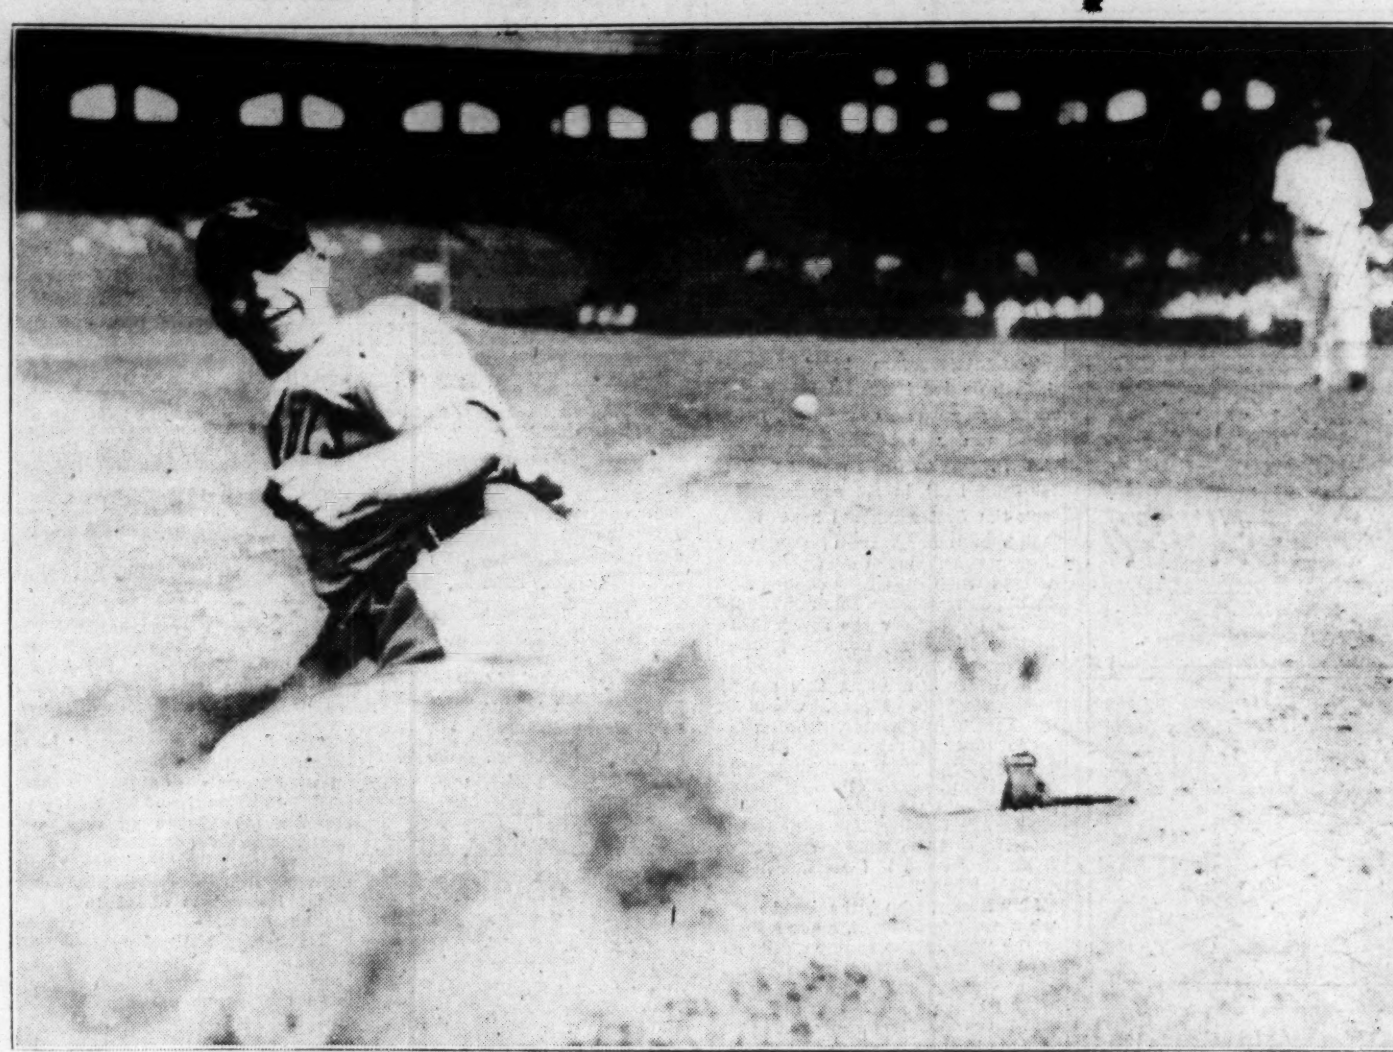

The Dutch foursome, however, were much more impressive, taking the second heat in 4:38.1, one-tenth of a second slower than the Olympic record.

TWILIGHT SONG LOSES FOR FIRST TIME IN A GRAND CIRCUIT RACE
GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The Schnappa, owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., and driven by Ben White, yesterday spoiled the hitherto unbeaten record of the Brooklyn filly Twilight Song by beating her in the Good Time Stake for two-year-olds, feature of the second program of the Grand Circuit meeting here.

The filly, who had an easy time in the first heat and when she broke in the final he had an easy time. He was driven by Ben White.

E. Roland Hartman, owner of the Grand Circuit, drove the winner of the trotting event for amateur drivers, guiding the three-year-old Pricomite to the front in two heats.

Sunny Jim and His Three-Base Smile

If ever a player deserved the nickname "Sunny Jim," it is at player is Bottomley. He has smiled his way through 14 years of major-league competition. Here he grins as he slides into third after blasting a triple in the fourth inning of the Browns-White Sox game at Chicago yesterday. Jim has laugh away all recent thoughts of retirement.

Questionable Decision on Double Play in Ninth Helps Cubs Win

By Dent McKimming

Base hits, good fielding and managerial strategy go a long way toward winning ball games, pennant and world championships, but when it comes down to fighting it out in close games perhaps the most important factor of all is a bit of luck.

With two teams of equal merit battling down the stretch, as are the Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs, incidents that might be considered unimportant at other times take on tremendous significance as, for example, a decision by Umpire Bill Stewart in the ninth inning of yesterday's game at Sportsman's Park.

The net result of Stewart's decision was the loss of a run for the Cards, a run which would have given them a 5-4 victory. Later, the Cubs scored two in the tenth to win, 6 to 4.

Magnanimous Chollie Grimm, manager of the Cubs, is a generous guy. He interceded for Dizzy Dean and the Cards on Monday when Dean was about to be ejected from the game and the fans said: "Chollie, our friend." But where was Chollie in the ninth inning of yesterday's ball game? Why did not Herr Grimm step up to Umpire Stewart and say: "Bill, you kicked one there. That's the most outlandish decision I have ever seen in all my baseball career, even going back to Muncy League days at Fairground Park. Now, Bill, put King back on second base, let that run of Moore's count and we'll all go home."

The umpires must have been waiting for Grimm to tell them they were wrong, for, certainly, every one else in the park told them in very explicit language. But, Herr Grimm has evidently quit playing Santa Claus. He took the fruits of the bad decision and seemed jolly well pleased, which proves that he's still human.

In a lot of ways it was a great ball game but all other things paled into insignificance when that ninth inning upheaval came. The situation was this: With the score tied 4-4, Terry Moore opened by laying down a bunt toward third. Pitcher Lee was in fact, grabbed the ball with one hand and then tried one of those Joe Dugan throws to first. The ball hit the dirt in front of Cavarretta and in between Moore's legs and bounded out into the right field bullpen as Moore scampered to second. Frisch promptly sacrificed him to third. What a situation! A run looked like a mortal cinder as the horse players would say, with King, Medwick and Mize coming up. Grimm must have thought so, too, because he resorted to a desperate measure. He ordered King walked to set the stage for a double play. One chance to the who knows how many thousands with Medwick the batter.

Joe Taps to Bill.
Jersey Joe got himself in the hole with two strikes and a ball before he finally got hold of one of Bill Lee's shots. But, woe to the who knows how many thousands with Medwick the batter.

As the umpires started off the field at the conclusion of play, an over-eager fan, young and slight of build, raced across the diamond and grabbed Umpire Stewart by the shoulder as he passed third base. The umpire, possibly expecting a mob attack from the rear, wheeled quickly and landed a right hand blow on Mr. Phan's head. The youngster raised his hands to do a little sparring, but Umpires

Andrews Pitches Three-Hit Game For His Fourth Victory of Year

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—If they aren't going anywhere in particular themselves the Browns are putting a crimp in the second-place aspirations of the White Sox, which Manager Dykes doesn't appreciate at all.

Ivy Paul Andrews yesterday held the Sox to three hits to give the Browns a 7 to 2 victory.

Only Third Time.

Meanwhile, the Browns are picking up in their associations with the White Sox. Yesterday's victory gave them their third victory over the Chicago team in 13 games this season and paved the way for a good showing in the current three-game series.

Andrews' brilliantly pitched game gave him his fourth victory of the season against nine defeats. His work was masterful all the way. The Sox scored their only runs in the second when Bonura singled, Appling tripled and scored on Dykes' long fly. Thereafter, Hayes' single in the fourth was the only single the Sox got that even looked like a hit.

The misery in Cain's arm made itself known immediately. He walked Larry, the first batter to face him, on five pitches. Larry promptly stole second and "Sugar" then walked Clift. Extensive damage was averted by an unusual double play. Solters lifted a high fly to Kreevich, whose throw to third got through Dykes a short distance.

When Clift attempted to take second he was nipped on Dykes' quick throw to Hayes. Bell then bounced a single over second to score Larry. West led off the fourth with a line single to left center and Bottomley sent Rosenthal racing to the bleacher wall in right center in pursuit of a mighty triple, West scoring. Hemslay beat out a dinky roller to Bonura, Bottomley holding third. Bejma walked, but then Andrews bounced into a double play, Cain to Grube to Bonura, and Hayes pegged out Larry.

Cain wasn't so fortunate in the next inning, which Clift tried open with a single to left, because Solters elected that moment as the proper one in which to drop his twelfth homer of the season into the lower deck of the right field stands.

Larry Drives in Two.
The Browns' lead swelled to four in the sixth, which started with Hemslay drawing free passage, Bejma smacked a liner which came off Cain's foot for a single. Andrews sacrificed and Larry promptly dumped a double over first to score Hemslay and Bejma. Here Cain steadied and Clift and Solters were unable to prolong the rally.

The final St. Louis tally checked in the ninth when West doubled to drive in Bell, who was on first by virtue of a single.

Goetz and Barr were at Stewart's side by that time and they had to restrain their friend from charging after the fan. Chicago players formed an escort for the umpires and took them through the dugout to obviate further trouble although there was no apparent danger of a general disturbance.

Parmelee a Bit Wild.
Aside from being a bit wild, as usual, Leroy Parmelee looked like a winning pitcher until the seventh. The Cards took the lead with two runs in the third on singles by Moore and Frisch and Mize's double. All looked well until Allen singled with two out in the fifth and then Hack bounced the ball off the pavilion roof for a homer, tying the score.

But the Redbirds were very serious about winning this ball game and they hopped on Carleton for four hits and two runs in their half of the same inning, Mize again driving in a run.

LOUIS SHOWS A FLASH OF FIRE IN WORKOUTS; SHARKEY READY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Aug. 12.—There was a general feeling of elation in Joe Louis' training camp today over the spirited form shown by the Brown Bomber yesterday in his workouts for his comeback battle against Jack Sharkey, Tuesday night.

Alert and bubbling over with a spirit and enthusiasm strangely missing in previous workouts, Louis zipped through four speedy rounds of boxing, two against Willie McGee and two against Young George Godfrey.

Experts at the ringside agreed that Louis' boxing was superb and his punching fast and accurate.

"He's just beginning to hit his real stride," explained Trainer, Jack Blackburn. "He'll be even better next time and better than that when he finishes training Sunday."

ORANBURGH, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Weighing a trim 198 and as cocksure of himself as ever, Jack Sharkey today entered the "home stretch" of his training campaign for his 10-round fight with Joe Louis next Tuesday night.

The ex-champion resumed boxing yesterday, after a one-day layoff and impressed all who saw him with his condition and his sharp boxing.

He boxed four rounds against three spar-mates and shook them all with short left hooks.

The Battle of the Century.

TO GIVE the fair ladies a bit of a thrill, Tex Carleton and Dizzy engaged in a mill; The scrap was a draw, the eye-witnesses claim. But "Diz" got the nod at the end of the game.

The added attraction was quite a surprise—Just one of those things that they don't advertise. Too bad that the battle was missed by Ford Frick.

Who, out of the scrap, would have got a big kick.

Although Kentucky is one of the states the Dizzy wasn't born in, the feud between him and Tex looks like the real Hatfield-McCoy.

As both the belligerents had cuts under the left eye, it looked as if they exchanged rights.

Charley Grimm's chivalry was hitting on all six when he allowed Dizzy Dean to stay in the game. And Sam Braden told him so.

But Virgil Davis was not to be outdone in chivalry by Charley Grimm. Hearing that Gaby Hartnett was out of the game with an injured foot, Virgil got himself spiked in the right foot Sunday.

Not that they anticipated any trouble but the umpires took their coats off before the game. It was the heat, not the hostility.

Jesse Owens is considering some tempting offers to turn professional before completing his college course. That's what "Red" Grange did and he has been regretting it ever since.

Germany probably put on the greatest Olympic meet of all time. But those Negro boys from America, practically spoiled the show for Herr Hitler.

flied to Radcliff.

ETHEL BARRYMORE RETIRES FROM STAGE

Going to Live in Country, Never Act Again; Ready to Help Others.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Ethel Barrymore, actress and sister of John and Lionel Barrymore of the movies, announced last night her retirement from the stage.

Miss Barrymore made her announcement in a radio broadcast appearance with Ben Bernie, orchestra leader.

She said she would retire to her home at Mamaroneck, N. Y., and expressed the hope "that any and all people who want help or encouragement in the line of speech, dramatics, radio or public presentation will call upon me because I'll be so happy to help them."

"I have made up my mind that I'm never going to appear in another play again," she said. "I live in the country and I never want to live anywhere else."

Miss Barrymore, daughter of Maurice and Georgie Drew Barrymore, went from a convent to the stage when she was 14 years old. At 21 she was a star.

Through her uncle, John Drew, she obtained her first Broadway part, that of a 35-year-old woman in "The Bauble Shop," in which he was appearing. She was then 15. It was Drew, too, who arranged for her to meet Charles Frohman who gave her a part in "Catherine." Within four years after the Frohman connection began she became a star.

Miss Barrymore was married in 1909 to Russell G. Colt of Providence, R. I., from whom she later was divorced. Their daughter, Ethel Barrymore Colt, is now an actress.

Miss Barrymore has appeared in motion pictures since 1915 and appeared with her two brothers as the Empress of Russia in "Rasputin."

Her stage appearances in recent years included tours in "The School for Scandal," "The Love Duel," "Scarlet Sister Mary" and "Cradle Song." She made a London appearance in 1934 in Barrie's "The Twelve Pound Look," followed by a brief turn in a four-day vaudeville house in New York in the same vehicle; later she played in New York in L'Aiglon with Eva Le Gallienne and toured in 1935 in a revival of one of her former successes "The Constant Wife."

PHOTOGRAPHS DROPPED LEAD TO ARREST IN BURGLARY

Granite City Police Identify Pictures of Pair and Arrest
Uncle of Girl.

Granite City police, investigating an attempted burglary at the Hungarian Home, 1801 Spruce street, Monday night, found photographs of a young woman and a man, which apparently had been dropped by the burglar.

Police interviewed the pair and yesterday arrested the young woman's uncle. A warrant charging larceny was issued against him, and he was released on $2000 bond pending investigation by the grand jury.

The burglar, after breaking into the building, was unable to open inner doors, which would have enabled him to reach cash and liquor in the bar.

FORMER U.S. OFFICIAL INDICTED AS BETRAYER OF SECRETS

Two Former Japanese Naval Attaches Named in But Not Charged With Alleged Conspiracy.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Naming two Japanese naval officers as conspirators, a Federal grand jury indicted former Lieutenant-Commander John S. Farnsworth yesterday on a charge of plotting to betray American military secrets. Assistant United States Attorney Samuel F. Beach said he had not sought the indictment of the Japanese officers, Yosiyuki Itimiyu and Okira Yamaki, because they were protected by diplomatic immunity. Beach said he believed Itimiyu and Yamaki, who served as naval attaches at the Japanese Embassy here, left the United States "some time ago."

The grand jury charged that Farnsworth had "corruptly and feloniously conspired" with the two officers and other persons to turn over secret documents, "with reason to believe" that they would be used "to the injury of the United States and the benefit of Japan."

The conspiracy continued, the grand jury charged, from Jan. 1, 1935, until a few days before Farnsworth's arrest last month.

In an earlier indictment Farnworth, who was ousted from the service in 1927 for "scandalous conduct," was accused of delivering a confidential naval publication to unnamed Japanese agents.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 12.—Mexican Government deported Nicolas Rodriguez, veteran of the Gold Shirts, yesterday to fight to halt the growth of Fascism in the United States. He was placed aboard an airplane bound for the United States. Dismissal of his organs and the exile of Rodriguez was distributed directly to Communist Rightist disorders in Monterrey several weeks ago.

There were unconfirmed reports that Rodriguez's expulsion followed discovery of plans for a demonstration of force by the Gold Shirts. One report said this demonstration had been set for today here and in Monterrey at a time to coincide with a scheduled for that day.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Antonio Escobar, Rodriguez's assistant, asked for an injunction to prevent his own arrest which said had been ordered. Escobar charged of sedition and subversive activities, Escobar protested a recent search and seizure of office files.

Jose I. Munoz, private secretary to Rodriguez, who was deported last night, was freed after his arrest for the United States. Rodriguez, three Gold Shirts, jailed last night, also were released with warning against renewing activity. The widening gulf between the Communist and Socialist groups has become increasingly apparent in recent weeks. The same causes embroiled Spain in civil revolt—apparent—controversy between Church and State, and controversy over the Government's program of Socialist education.

Typifying the Rightist are Gold Shirts, or Accion Nacionalista Mexicana. The rallying point for the Leftists is the Confederation of Workers in Mexico, its tendency toward Socialism. Sympathetic with the Gold Shirts is the newly organized Confederation of the Middle Class, membership reported at 60,000. Gold Shirts and the new confederation are anti-Jewish and Communist.

Employers Sympathetic. Many employers who have been harassed by recent strikes have invariably decided against the Gold Shirts.

Business and civic leaders in Monterrey formed an organization to oppose Communism. They called it the Accion Civica Nacionalista and it was with this group that the Red Workers were in conflict in the recent disorder.

Unconfirmed reports from Monterrey said merchants and bankers, alarmed at the trend of the Government program, were lending secret support to Rodriguez's organization.

The Confederation of Workers just six months old, constituted by a chief bulwark. "A Confederation without classes" is its announced purpose and the confederation recently advocated organization of workers' militia, similar to the fighting for the Government in Spanish civil war, to guard against gains.

Rodriguez Arrives at El Paso. Treatment "High-Handed." EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 12.—Nicolas Rodriguez, expelled leader of the Gold Shirts of Mexico, arrived here at 6 p. m. yesterday. Rodriguez was flown to El Paso from Mexico, D. F., in a plane the service of President Cardenas. "The treatment accorded me is high-handed and absolutely against the law," said Rodriguez.

"Up to Monday, my party had done everything we could to aid the Government, not because we are afraid of the President, but because we realized the importance of doing the red menace." Rodriguez said today he would make no attempt to establish contact with other political exiles in the United States. The interests of Gen. Calles himself lie along different paths, he added.

Cardenas Government Puts Leader on Plane Bound For U. S. in Fight to Check Fascism.

PLAN FOR SHOW OF FORCE RUMORED

Lines Being Drawn Between Rightist and Leftist Elements in Various Parts of Country.

MEXICO, D. F., Aug. 12. — The Mexican Government deported Gen. Nicolas Rodriguez, veteran leader of the Gold Shirts, yesterday in its fight to halt the growth of Fascism. He was placed aboard an airplane bound for the United States.

Dissolution of his organization and the exile of Rodriguez were attributed directly to Communist and Rightist disorders in Monterrey several weeks ago.

There were unconfirmed reports that Rodriguez's expulsion followed discovery of plans for a demonstration of force by the Gold Shirts. One report said this demonstration had been set for Saturday here and in Monterrey and was timed to coincide with strikes scheduled for that day.

Assistant Secretary of State, Antonio Escobar, Rodriguez's assistant, asked for an injunction to prevent his own arrest which, he said, had been ordered. Denying charges of sedition and subversive activities, Escobar protested against a recent search and seizure of his office files.

Jose I. Munoz, private secretary to Rodriguez, who was detained last night, was freed after his leader left for the United States. Twenty-three Gold Shirts, jailed Sunday night, also were released with a warning against renewing Fascist activity.

The widening gulf between Fascist and Socialist groups has become increasingly apparent in recent weeks. The same causes that embroiled Spain in civil revolt were apparent — controversy between Church and State, and contention over the Government's program of Socialist education.

Typifying the Rightist are the Gold Shirts, or Accion Revolucionaria Mexicana. The rallying point for the Leftists is the Confederation of Workers in Mexico, with its tendency toward Socialization.

Sympathetic with the Gold Shirts is the newly organized Confederation of the Middle Class, with a membership reported at 60,000. Both Gold Shirts and the new confederation are anti-Jewish and anti-Communist.

Employers Sympathetic. Many employers who have been harassed by recent strikes almost invariably decided against them, are sympathetic toward the Rightists.

Business and civic leaders in Monterrey formed an organization to oppose Communist. They called it the Accion Civica Nacionalista, and it was with this group that the Red Workers were in conflict during the recent disorder.

Unconfirmed reports from North Mexico said merchants and big planters, alarmed at the tendencies of the Government program, were lending secret support to Rodriguez's organization.

The Confederation of Workers, just six months old, constitutes labor's chief bulwark. "A society without classes" is its announced purpose and the confederation recently advocated organization of a workers' militia, similar to that fighting for the Government in the Spanish civil war, to guard labor's gains.

Rodriguez Arrives at El Paso: Call Treatment 'High-Handed.' EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 12. — Gen. Nicolas Rodriguez, expelled leader of the Gold Shirts of Mexico, arrived here at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Rodriguez was flown to Juarez from Mexico, D. F., in a plane in the service of President Cardenas.

"The treatment accorded me was high-handed and altogether against the law," said Rodriguez.

"Up to Monday, my party and I had done everything we could to save the Government, not because we were afraid of the President or because we are in sympathy with all of his policies, but because we realized the importance in defeating the red menace."

Rodriguez said today he would make no attempt to establish contact with other political exiles while in the United States.

"The interests of Gen. Calles and myself lie along different courses," he added.

First Born Under Soviet Rule, Now 19, Drafted for Red Army

Government Reduces From 21 the Age for Compulsory Military Training—Youths Must Serve Two Years.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—The first Russians born under Communist rule were ordered last night to join the huge Red army.

The Government reduced to 19 from 21 years the age limit for compulsory military service, opening the ranks of the fighting service for the first time to those born after the revolt of 1917.

Large increases in the Soviet army and reserves are made possible under the decree, although the order is effective immediately, it will not go into full force until 1940 to allow the army an opportunity to absorb the increased number of candidates.

The official announcement stated: "Taking into consideration the general physical development of youth, the increase in (National) wealth and the development of sports, the central executive committee of the Communist party and the committee of the People's commissars have decided to change the age of classes called the Red army. This also was done for the purpose of enabling youth to complete military service earlier in order not later to interfere with their studies and their entry into professions."

After two years of active service the recruits will be placed in the reserves subject to call.

Latest authoritative information placed Red army strength at 1,300,000 men as of Jan. 1, 1935. In addition, it is estimated there is a trained reserve of about 10,000,000 soldiers.

U. S. ACCEPTS INVITATION TO AMERICAN PEACE PARLEY

Secretary of State Hull Makes Formal Announcement of Participation at Buenos Aires.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — Secretary of State Hull announced today the United States Government's formal acceptance of Argentina's invitation to the inter-American peace conference at Buenos Aires on Dec. 1.

The announcement was made in the publication of an exchange of cablegrams between the Secretary of State and the Minister for Foreign Affairs of Argentina in which Hull said the date set by Argentina was acceptable.

The peace parley was suggested first by President Roosevelt several months ago but the question of setting the date and issuing of formal invitations to the 20 other American republics was left to the Argentine Government, which will act as host.

The agenda already has been adopted by a provisional committee on arrangements made up of the diplomatic representatives in Washington of all the American nations.

ROOSEVELT CONFERS WITH PARTY LEADERS IN MARYLAND

Discusses Progress of Campaign With 30 Democrats That State on Motor Trip.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Senator Radcliffe (Dem.), Maryland, said last night that President Roosevelt conferred with a group of Maryland Democratic leaders in a quiet meeting yesterday at the home of Sumner Welles, Assistant Secretary of State.

Welles was reported to have motored with the President from the White House to Walter Reed Hospital here for a visit with Secretary of War Dern. From there the President and Welles drove to Welles' home at Oxon Hill, Md.

Radcliffe said the President was greeted by about 30 party leaders from Maryland, and was informed that the campaign for his re-election was "far advanced" in that State. The President said the Senator took a "keen interest" in party affairs in Maryland, inquiring "about the trend" there.

YUGOSLAV ISLAND, HARBOR NAMED FOR KING EDWARD

British Monarch Buys Seaman's Shirt and Three Dolls on Visit to Shops Ashore.

SIBENIK, Yugoslavia, Aug. 12.—An island and harbor in Yugoslavia were named for King Edward today as the British monarch cruised along the Dalmatian coast.

Officials renamed Kuki Otok King Edward Island and gave to Tejar harbor the name of King Edward harbor.

Early today the royal yacht Nahlin steamed away for Starigrad, 25 miles north, where the King was said to be planning a deer hunt in the Veliko Meandrina.

The King fished until midnight and caught two large "dental-fish" weighing about eight pounds.

On one of his expeditions to the shore he went into a shop, tried on a Croatian seaman's shirt, and walked out with it over his arm. He bought three dolls costing 15% dinars (approximately 34 cents) and, having no change, tipped the woman shopkeeper the rest of a 20-dinar bill.

Social Credit Protest to King. EDMONTON, Alberta, Aug. 12.—A protest against the social credit plan of the Alberta Government has been mailed to King Edward VIII, it has been disclosed. The letter, signed by Fred R. Surry, organizer and secretary of the oppositionist League of Freedom, was the second protest against the proposed plan of Premier William Abernethy. Objections by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to the Canadian Government were referred to the Dominion Department of Justice.

FRANCE DECLARES NEUTRALITY PACT DEADLINE AUG. 17

Date Set to End Delay by Germany and Italy on Spanish Agreement—No Formal Nazi Reply.

MUSSOLINI RAISES DIFFICULT POINT

Rebels Protest Against Alleged Aid Already Sent to Madrid by the French Socialists.

PARIS, Aug. 12.—France has set Aug. 17 as the deadline for completion of the international Spanish neutrality agreement, informed sources declared today.

Breakdown of non-intervention negotiations might force the French to carry out their threat to send aid to the Spanish Government, political quarters indicated. The French Council of Ministers was summoned into special session for tomorrow.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos conferred with British Ambassador Sir George Russell Clerk and informed sources said Britain was bringing "very serious pressure" on Lisbon to overcome obstacles to the inclusion of Portugal in the neutrality accord.

Delays in the discussion led to the establishment of the deadline. Supporters of the Government of Premier Leon Blum said Italy and Germany were responsible for the delay.

Nine Agree in Principle. France was represented as being hopeful the final agreement of European nations to keep hands off the civil war between the Madrid Government and Fascist rebels might be concluded by Aug. 15.

(Nine European Powers already have agreed in principle to the French proposal to maintain strict neutrality in the Spanish domestic crisis. The most recent was Poland, which accepted yesterday. Others are Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Russia, Portugal, The Netherlands, Czechoslovakia and Belgium.)

Official French circles received the Washington statement that the U. S. would not interfere with gratification. Officials expressed "delight" over the United States action in affirming its neutrality, accepting the State Department declaration as independent of the French neutrality proposal.

Pleased With U. S. Stand. Criticism of the Italian and German positions were based on two factors:

1. Premier Mussolini's demand that all nations in the agreement prevent private citizens from furnishing money, supplies and volunteers to either the Spanish Government or the rebels.

The Blum supporters asserted Mussolini's request was made with the knowledge that present French and British laws do not permit any such control of the actions of private citizens.

2. Germany's delay in accepting formally the French invitation to join in the agreement.

Why German Delays. Although the German Government informed the French Ambassador in Berlin last week a prompt reply would be sent to Paris, the French are still awaiting the Nazi answer.

Informed sources said the Government will reply to the Italian reservation by accepting the Fascist condition "to the extent the French law authorizes."

Predictions were made that the Berlin response would be delayed until after the German demand for reparations and for Spanish Communists of four young Germans at Barcelona had been acted upon by the Madrid Government.

Protest From Rebels. The Spanish Government's request that France form an international control committee to guarantee the neutrality pact—once it concluded—was followed by a protest from the rebels.

Former Wife Speaks at Lincoln Steffens' Funeral

ADDRESSING group of friends in a cemetery at San Francisco after a service attended by the writers' colony of Carmel, Cal. She was with the noted author and magazine writer when he died last Sunday. With her at the funeral was Peter, the 10-year-old son of Steffens and his former wife, Charles Erskine Scott Wood, poet, delivered a brief eulogy at the grave. To Miss Winter and the son, he said "You will never have a greater heritage than the name of Lincoln Steffens."

new rebel protest against alleged aid sent by France to the Spanish Government.

"We learned with surprise and sadness France is tolerating the inscription of combatants to join the Madrid troops," the Fascist protest said.

"If France persists in this error, she will dig a deep ditch between the two sister nations whose fate has been so often bound together. France, it is still time to avoid a catastrophe!"

The protest followed admittance to Spain of four French Socialists—a flyer, radioman and two machine gunners—who crossed the border near Hendaye.

The four declared they were "lent" to Government forces in Guipuzcoa Province. They were permitted to pass by border officials after receipt of orders from Paris.

The French threat to send assistance to Madrid was first made Aug. 3 when the Blum Government asserted it felt "free" to send war supplies to Spain if the neutrality agreement were not accepted quickly.

The Paris administration then declared it would prefer to enter the accord with other European nations for non-intervention.

However, it made clear Spanish orders for munitions would be filled promptly in the absence of the international pact. Later the Blum Government affirmed its "complete neutrality" in the war.

GENERAL CHIANG AT CANTON

Arranges Conference on Rebellion of Kwangsi Province.

HONGKONG, China, Aug. 12.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, military overlord of the Central Chinese Government, established headquarters today in the Whampoa Military Academy at Canton.

Chiang arrived in the Southwest city last night to take a personal hand in subduing rebellious Kwangsi Province. He arranged a conference with Kwangsi representatives to discuss union of the province with the Nanking Government.

Kwangsi, formerly allied with the Southern (Canton) Government, declined to affiliate with Nanking after a Southwestern effort to induce Chiang to declare war on the Japanese had failed.

BOMBAY, Aug. 12.—Four thousand villages were submerged by floods today.

The torrents struck approximately one-third of India, while another third of the country was offering prayers and sacrifices for relief from drouth and famine.

The floods destroyed roads and crops as dams burst. Authorities opened refugee camps in the united central provinces and at other points.

GOV. LANDON'S RECORD DEBATED IN CAMPAIGN

Labor Editor Charges Nominee Is "Controlled" by "School Text Book and Power Trusts."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Alf M. Landon's record as Governor of Kansas was the subject today of criticism and praise from opposite sides in the presidential election campaign.

Leslie Doud, a member of the pro-Roosevelt Labor's Non-partisan League, said the Landon administration was "controlled" by the "school book trust and the light and power trust."

Oscar Stauffer, Kansas editor, said in a speech under Republican auspices that Landon changed a deficit in the Kansas Highway Department into a surplus while reducing automobile license taxes.

Maj. George L. Berry, president of Labor's Non-partisan League, made public a report which Doud submitted to him. Doud, who is editor of the Kansas Labor Weekly at Topeka, was quoted as saying:

"The Landon administration in Kansas is controlled and dominated by two outstanding interests—the school book trust and the light and power trust. Of the two, the school book trust is the most rotten, and the stench of it reaches to the high heavens. The light and power trust reaches into other business groups, however, and is the direct alliance between Landon and the 'big business' of Kansas."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Why Not a St. Louis Foundation?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ACCORDING to a recent publication of the Twentieth Century Fund, Inc., there are 123 foundations in the United States which make grants in excess of $25,000. In 1934, these grants were used in the fields of education, medicine, social welfare, government and public administration, public service, city planning and housing, economics, agriculture, aviation, engineering and others.

There are 18 foundations which bear the names of the cities in which they have been established, having total assets of $31,974,747. These foundations are as follows: Atlanta Foundation, Buffalo Foundation, Chicago Community Trust, Cleveland Foundation, Dayton Foundation, Detroit Community Trust, Indianapolis Foundation, Lancaster (Pa.) Community Trust, Milwaukee Foundation, Minneapolis Foundation, New Haven (Conn.) Foundation, New York Community Trust, New York Foundation, Philadelphia Foundation, Santa Barbara Foundation, Williamsport (Pa.) Foundation, Winston-Salem (N. C.) Foundation and Youngstown (O.) Foundation.

The grants made by these municipal foundations are used for research in various kinds of public service.

St. Louis is conspicuously absent from this list. Why not a St. Louis Foundation? Certainly our citizens are as public-spirited as those of other cities. Undoubtedly a private trust of this sort, administered by a group of representative citizens, would afford an opportunity for citizens who wish to aid their community, to make gifts with the assurance that the funds would be carefully conserved and wisely administered. Grants made from the income of a St. Louis Foundation could be used for research on the smoke problem, in the field of low cost housing, on problems of relief and employment and in numerous other beneficial ways.

The advantage of a permanent trust would be that funds would be available at all times for study of special problems of current importance. In Cleveland a splendid recreational study was financed by the Cleveland Foundation, which led to great improvement in the recreational facilities of that city. In New York the regional plan was financed for many years by the Russell Sage Foundation. A survey of the activities of these municipal foundations would probably disclose an extremely large number of useful public services performed with the grants made by them.

HARLAND BARTHOLOMEW.

Tutelage, Not Titular.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ALLOW me to call your attention to an obvious error of the Associated Press when, in its report of the Jeffersonian Democrats' meeting at Detroit, it designated President Roosevelt as "titular" head of the Democratic party instead of "tutelage" or "tutelage" head, since he has assumed to be the whole outfit, body, soul and breeches, not nominal but real.

JOHN W. REID.

Flat-Wheeled Cass Avenue Cars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IF the wheels on the Cass Avenue cars I get any flatter, they will have to carry them around in buses.

If Receiver Henry Kiel lived on St. Louis Avenue and had the constant annoyance of these flat wheels, I'll bet he would see that they were replaced with round ones.

Resides their deafening noise, the vibration caused by them is costing property owners thousands of dollars in repair bills every year.

Must we stand for this imposition, while this antiquated means of transportation is dying?

P. A. S.

For An Election Cleanup.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE must now lay plans for a clean registration and an honest count of the ballots in the coming election.

I suggest the following:

1. Out the Election Board and every employee with it. Sift the good from the bad and reinstate those who prove true blue.

2. When the polls close, have a Citizens' Committee of four or six representative men and women, divided equally as to politics, take charge of the polls and relieve the judges and clerks of further responsibility. With police guard present, the ballots are counted and turned over to the proper custodian.

A WOMAN VOTER.

Comparison.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

SAID President Hoover to President-elect Roosevelt: "In order to save precious time, let us have a conference to see if I can use the authority of the President to assist you in avoiding serious damage and a catastrophe for the sake of our people and country."

Said Mr. Roosevelt with lifted eyebrows: "NO, that is not my baby." And the country suffered the consequences.

Said Mr. Roosevelt to Mr. Landon: "Come, join a conference of Governors regarding the drought."

Said Mr. Landon to Mr. Roosevelt: "Yes, sir, that is OUR baby and I will gladly attend."

Readers will kindly note the patriots and the politicians.

C. H. S.

THE CASE.

The case against the St. Louis Election Board was well stated in a letter sent to Gov. Park by a committee of citizens appointed at a protest meeting following exposure of wholesale registration frauds by the Post-Dispatch.

The case may be summarized as follows:

1. Proper administration of the Election Board's duties would have made impossible corrupt padding of the lists.

2. Reversing the policy of previous Election Boards, Chairman Waechter and his associates have permitted committeemen and committeewomen to nominate judges and clerks of election, instead of making these appointments independently.

3. The effect of this course of action has been to place registrations and elections in the hands of those vitally interested in their outcome, thus paving the way for frauds.

4. Upon disclosure of the frauds perpetrated in the June 18 registration and winked at by the original canvassers, the Election Board failed to take prompt and vigorous action to clean up the situation.

5. Only after the compelling force of facts made further procrastination on its part impossible did the Election Board begin to function.

6. It then approached the problem in a piecemeal fashion, offering to strike off the books the names of those against whom private investigators had made a case of fraud.

7. When the Post-Dispatch showed that the frauds were not confined to a few river wards, but were present throughout the city, including the home precincts of the Election Board members, the Election Board was put in a position where a re-canvass of the entire city had to be ordered.

8. The result of this re-canvass showed 46,252 names "not found," but the Election Board, basing its stand on a technical legal point, declined summarily to strike off the names. Four former chairmen of the board insisted that it had the inherent power to do so.

9. Instead, the board appointed deputy commissioners to appear at the polls to challenge any ghosts that might appear and, in doing so, followed the perilous course of permitting many of these deputy commissioners to be recommended by committeemen and committeewomen.

10. Apart from their responsibility for the fraud situation, members of the Election Board, in violation of their function as umpires, "have taken an active part," as the committee puts it, "in factional political disputes of their respective parties, and have openly and publicly espoused and endeavored to aid the faction they favored, and have used and continued to use or withhold what they considered their patronage as Election Commissioners to that end."

In the light of its history, the Election Board has completely forfeited the confidence of this community. It should not be permitted to conduct the forthcoming general registration, to form the basis of the registration lists for another four years.

Gov. Park, this board, appointed by you, is removable by you, according to the Missouri statutes. Do your duty!

FRANCE NATIONALIZES MUNITIONS.

The French Parliament has passed a bill which provides for the nationalization of war industries. As soon as President Albert Lebrun puts his signature to the measure, the Government will be authorized to take over factories and to pay cash to their owners for the confiscation. This would be a noteworthy step in any capitalist country, but it is all the more significant in France, which has long been one of the centers of the munitions industry and its international intrigue in finance and foreign relations. It is another warning to our own armament makers. The Senate investigation showed up many of their greedy, unsavory practices. If they are wise they will rid their business of these methods without waiting for regulatory legislation. What has happened in France can and will happen here if the manufacturing and selling of American war supplies are not placed on a more respectable basis.

WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

Kentucky and Virginia have followed the example of Kansas and Michigan in setting up permanent legislative councils. Taking notice of this, the Memphis Commercial Appeal, in an editorial reprinted on this page the other day, urged Tennessee to be the next State to substitute continuous, thoughtful legislative planning for the periodic, slap-bang system now generally employed.

The idea ought to be considered in Missouri. Everyone who has followed the sessions at Jefferson City knows that it is virtually impossible to get sorely needed legislation enacted; that it is almost as sure of a battle to prevent the passage of special interest bills. So much attention must be given to these obvious elements that there is no opportunity or time to consider, much less promote, a broad forward-looking program.

Lawmaking has been improved in Kansas, thanks to the regular meetings of its legislative council and the latter's time-saving recommendations to the Legislature. It must be improved and somehow or other it can be improved in Missouri. Some candidate for the Missouri Legislature would set himself apart in the present campaign by declaring in favor of the legislative council, and supporting his position with educational addresses for the enlightenment of the voters.

IOU CURRENCY.

Father Coughlin was being bluffing when he offered to bet $25,000 at three-to-two that Lemke would poll more votes than Landon, but his bluff, as everyone knows, has been called. When, later, the radio priest said he was wagering on the result in Rhode Island, it sounded a bit like "welching," but the chap at the other end accepted the amendment and put up his money. Father Coughlin has finally had to come through or face the alternative, and he has come through. He has sent on the sum of $25,000 in promissory notes, being satisfied, it may be assumed, to consider the affair a closed incident pending the November verdict.

Not so the other party. Promissory notes or printing-press money may be coin of the realm in the Coughlin philosophy but not in the dubious tangent of waging where a debt is legally uncollectible.

Promissory notes are dumb. Only real money talks. Such is the substance of the message rifled back to the Detroit cleric. A cruel world, this, under our hard-boiled monetary system. So different from the printing press abundance of the Father's IOU-topia.

MR. NAGEL ON TOLERANCE.

It was a pleasure to quote on this page yesterday a part of the admirable address made recently by Charles Nagel of St. Louis, Secretary of Commerce and Labor in the Taft administration, before the National Industrial Conference Board in New York City. Apart from his discussion of the role of Government, Mr. Nagel had some things to say about human rights and tolerance to which attention may also be directed.

Describing the promotion of special loyalty oaths for teachers as "just a gesture," Mr. Nagel pointed out that the legislative bodies now requiring such oaths of teachers have taken similar oaths to support the Constitution for a century and a half. "And who," he asked, "will say that he has discovered a beneficial result?"

In a time when pressure groups would regulate the thinking and utterance of their fellow Americans, there is a special value in his words on individual rights. We quote:

The press demands its liberty to publish its papers untrammelled by Government. But there are others whose liberties are denied; not only industrialists and the press. There are individuals who are not strong enough to assert themselves. Some of them are incarcerated. . . . We must be tolerant with people who think they have ideas, and there is a broad distinction between tolerance and toleration. Let them talk it out. The soap box is a safety valve. If I had my way, I would have a soap box at every fifth corner and invite everybody who suspects himself of harboring an idea to talk it out.

We must meet realities. We must recognize, for illustration, that we have no real equality. This is a popular slogan; but it is not true. Providence has taken care that nothing so monotonous shall be imposed upon the world. We are different in genius, different in appearance, different in fortune, different in misfortune, all of which creates disparities for which we cannot account.

Instead of having each take advantage of the prerogative that has been given him at the cost of his neighbor, it is for him to ameliorate as far as he can the inequalities that have been visited upon others. If I cannot rejoice in the realization of my dreams through the triumph of another I have missed a way to happiness. The true rule is that every denial of the right of another is an encroachment upon my own right, and if I do not see that I may live to see the day when the same denial of justice will be applied to me.

Admirers of the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes will recognize in this passage evidence of an intellectual kinship between Mr. Nagel and the great Judge who graced our Supreme Court for 30 years. Justice Holmes always stood ready to accord "freedom of the thought that we hate." Mr. Nagel takes the same stand. So must every American who believes in the guarantees of the Constitution.

FINISH THIS WORK.

Completion of the railroad deck of the Municipal Bridge by next spring is now forecast by A. R. Ross, acting president of the Board of Public Service. He bases his prediction on the fact that the city will receive bids for laying the track and the installation of rails on the approaches and the bridge proper this week. He also notes the impending completion of the so-called South Valley Junction approach on the Illinois side.

Let us hope that Mr. Ross' forecast comes true. The Municipal Bridge proper was without an eastern approach for years. For six years the railroad approach has stood in an unfinished state. The large investment already made in the partial improvements, the benefits to the St. Louis area through better railroad service, the long-discussed release from tolls of the upper deck of Eads Bridge—such are the reasons for pushing this work through the fall and winter. As Mr. Ross says, spring "should" find it completed.

THE TALKING MOVIES AND THE PROPHETS.

Prophets are likely to feel their cheeks burning if they stay around long enough to see what happens. Take the case of the talking picture, which passed a tenth anniversary last Friday, and may now be regarded as fairly permanent. It hasn't been 10 years even since dire predictions were being made about the new invention, referred to as "the squawksies," "noisy hokum" and such.

Nearly all who took unto themselves foresight were sure the screen would lose its precious gift of action. The camera did sit still for a while, it is true, but then went on to speed and more speed. The public was warned that its favorites would go the way of the beautiful but dumb, and who could ever replace them! That, until the best thespians, in droves like forty-niners, started across country. Some thought it would kill off foreign stars, among them Greta Garbo. Reports of her cinematic demise were, at best, grossly exaggerated.

Well, then, asked the real liberals among the critics, wouldn't America have to stop making pictures for the rest of the world? Along came the process of "dubbing in"; if it were required, a player could be given all the tongues of man, simply by tacking new voices on to the sound tracks. Much more satisfactory was the use of super-imposed titles. Export trade went merrily along. And as for our American slang, even Britain found she could "take it." Doubtless, the prophets have had a similar experience.

ADVENTURE IN MEGALOMANIA.

Mussolini is embarking on a campaign to bring 10,000,000 persons of Italian blood, living elsewhere than in Italy, within the Fascist fold. Of these persons, 6,500,000 live in North and South America. Nearly $5,000,000 has been set aside in the current budget to finance propaganda activities. Meanwhile, Fascist organizations are being set up in American cities, Italian language newspapers have been bought by Fascists and their policies are dictated from Rome, prize-winning students are being given trips to Rome at Italy's expense and so on.

It is another adventure in megalomania on the part of Il Duce. We do not believe that American citizens of Italian blood, who enjoy the freedom and opportunities of our democracy, are going to prejudice their citizenship by dividing allegiance between the United States and Italy. We do not believe that aliens of Italian blood in this country, many of whom made heavy sacrifices to come here, are going to court deportation to add to the personal glory of Italy's dictator.

We may be mistaken, but our notion is that Italian-Americans by and large are thanking their stars that they live in a country where it is not necessary to goose-step at the whim of an all-powerful ruler.

TIME OUT!

Time for a New Start in Foreign Policy

Suggestion by Dr. Butler that this country call a world economic conference to avert catastrophe is called impractical and dangerous; writer says a new start must be made in this field by educating Americans to support an enlightened foreign policy; thinks best way to co-operation is by showing necessity of trade abroad.

From the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

AS president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler has just made a report to the trustees of that organization on the state of the nations. It is a disturbing message, declaring in effect that the world stands on the brink of another war and that collective action is imperative to prevent the worst effects of another economic collapse. Dr. Butler recommends that the United States take the initiative in calling an international economic conference in an effort to avert the threatening catastrophe.

Dr. Butler does not exaggerate the critical situation, and his diagnosis is undoubtedly correct. At bottom, the world's troubles are economic. Underneath all the political turmoil is the distress of masses of peoples and the precarious financial condition of the various governments. All nations have about reached the limit of borrowing to stave off disorder, made inevitable by disruption of international trade and normal activities.

But when Dr. Butler proposes an international economic conference, to be initiated by the United States, he seems to be getting away from realities. He is asking a Democratic administration to make a gesture in the field of international affairs that would be politically dangerous and might do more harm than good under existing conditions.

The present administration is now under fire because it has made a first step in the direction of reviving international trade through reciprocal trade pacts. The President and Secretary Hull have literally taken their political lives in their hands to advance this cause, which the Republican platform is pledged to reverse.

It should be apparent by now that a complete new start must be made in dealing with the international problem. As Dr. Butler suggests, there must be a new approach, and it should be along economic lines. From all accounts, the statesmen of Europe realize this, and the more responsible leaders are seeking a new way out of the morass. This has been forced upon them by conditions which are constantly growing worse.

We are not much better off, although we are enjoying recovery of a kind. None of the major problems facing the country has been solved by President Roosevelt and will not be solved by anything he has so far proposed. This is true of the Republican party and of Gov. Landon. If Gov. Landon should be elected and carry out the platform adopted at Cleveland, we would soon be worse off than we are today. The reason is simply that, in this interdependent world, no nation can have lasting prosperity or be secure from the danger of another war so long as the world at large is suffering from grave economic and political disturbances.

The United States, because of its prestige, its wealth and remoteness geographically should today be providing the leadership needed to bring about stabilization and order. What are the obstacles in the way? Why is it that the United States is unable to take her proper place in the world and by doing so help her own people? Because we have been misled and the relationship between this country and the world has been misrepresented ever since the World War.

Crooked Vote Methods

From the Chicago Daily News.

PERMANENT registration, the new east-vote law, is now formally in effect in Chicago and nine suburbs.

Fortune magazine, in its current issue lists 13 ways apart from the bestowal of patronage privilege or immunities from the enforcement of the law—by which a political machine may seek to control an election dishonestly.

1. Intimidation and violence, exercised upon voters and upon workers or watchers of the opposing party.

2. Buying the votes of legally registered voters—"sometimes for cash; sometimes for a drink of rotgut, good brandy, or even a sandwich."

3. False registration. "Including the voting of phony voters who swear to false names or who adopt the names of registered dead men or of voters who have moved away. If a political worker doesn't trust his floaters he will steal a ballot early in the morning, fill it out for the organization, hand it to the first stinger; as a voting float is called, tell the stinger to deposit it in the box. The stinger must bring back an unmarked ballot before he can collect his two bits. And the unmarked ballot is then filled out for the organization, and the process repeated, making up an endless chain. Stingers may obviously vote as voters by moving from precinct to precinct."

4. Voting the "illiterates." That is a job gives "assistance" to a voter who claims to cannot read or understand the long ballot.

5. Manipulating the line. "The art of permitting only the right voters to move toward the polling booth."

6. Stuffing the box. "The method is arbitrarily to check off the names of voters and fill in the ballots for them. When the checked-off voter turns up later in the day he is told that he has already voted."

7. Weighing the box. Election officials in collusion, "simply decide, without opening the box, just who is to get what, and by what margin."

8. Cheating on the count. "Done by taking and otherwise spoiling ballots. The short-pencil expert, with a pencil lead concealed in his hand as he manipulates the ballots in the count, will mark an organization X at the top of a split ballot and simply count that X."

9. Erasures. The ballots are altered by erasures before the count.

10. Spilling the ballots. The lights are turned, and in the mixup other ballots are substituted for those originally in the box.

11. Substituting a new tally sheet. The correct tally is destroyed after the count, and a false tally is filed in its place.

12. Substituting a new ballot box. Before the count, the right box is stolen and later destroyed. Another, loaded in advance with false ballots, is substituted.

13. Indirect methods. Under this heading, Fortune magazine lists "party control of the county judge, who may be complicit in the selection of judges and clerks of election; also, 'the tacit or open bribery or compulsion of the police force to overlook election day irregularities.' These indirect methods are used to prepare the way for the various direct frauds."

In the light of these 13 ways of stealing votes, it is clear that the permanent registration law will not abolish dishonesty at the polls. By its permanent card index and its signature test, it should, however, make practically impossible in future the use of the commonest methods of cheating, false registration and stuffing the box.

THE intensity of the pre-campaign year has been into prominence and importance may depend. They three groups upon whose outcome may depend. They farmers, organized labor and Negroes. An analysis of the of the congressional election 1934 indicates that the v these groups swung the election the New Deal.

Both parties recognize the disturbance in Washington the Lewis-Grain fight, which split the ranks of organized labor and the possible exploitation of the internal dissensions of the Republicans. The Republican certainty, make as much capital of it as they can. It offers the only hope of deflecting the labor vote away from the New Deal. The farmers are back in large numbers into the ranks. And the Negroes, extremely important. In the states where they are permitted to vote, both Republican and Democrats are making a bid for them. In certain states large Negro populations—Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and the border states of Kentucky and Tennessee—their vote in a close election may hold the balance of power. The Negro vote, conceivably, elect or defeat a president. And nowhere is the effect more apparent than in the so-called "swing" states, the ones which permeate our political life for the votes of these people, the outcasts, the disinherited, the plucked of all mankind, but studiously avoided apparent to the Negroes.

The reason is obvious: the South is the Democratic stronghold and a pro-Negro policy on the part of the administration is the thing that would most break down the traditional racial allegiance. The Southern Tenant Farmers' Union seeks to unite white and black union of the agrarian workers the cotton and tobacco fields body's child. Sharecroppers sought an interview with St. Robinson at the Democratic convention had a hard time of it. A quest for an interview for a nation with the President, who was last in Arkansas, received no response. Southern Negroes no votes, and are politically less.

But in the North, the situation is different. Here the Negro vote has traditionally been Republican, partly because of memory of the Civil War, but also because Republicans paid more for the vote than Democrats. The Democrats are able for the time to compete—not with the polls, but with relief and jobs on the same terms as are offered to whites. The relief is headed with Negroes, a fact which has been the basis of much comment by those who are for explaining that the relative preference of Negroes proves that are congenitally lazy, unthrifty, quickest to let the state care of them.

The interpretation does not groes an injustice, and reveals ignorance of the facts about employment in the North. America's gates have been closed to the immigration of cheap labor from Eastern Europe, the reservoir of 10,000,000 Southern Negroes has been tapped by industry whenever it needed labor to combat trade unionism any labor to handle peak production. As in the 90s agents from Eastern Europe and the Balkans surrounded workers for American mines and mills, with promises of gold to be picked in the streets in the last decades, and even during the war and post-war similar agents drew upon the millions of the South. They were rural agricultural areas where groes lived on the land or in

Rare Collection of Eugene Field Relics to Be Shown in Old Home Of Poet to Be Opened Oct. 16

His Children Contribute Many Articles for Museum in His Birthplace—One Room Dedicated to His Wife.

A collection of mementoes of Eugene Field, the children's poet—large and small, important and trivial, but reflecting and recreating his picturesque character—has been gathered by Jesse P. Henry for the Field museum being established in the poet's birthplace, 634 South Broadway.

The museum, in the restored house, will be opened Oct. 16. The house is owned by the Board of Education, which is completing the restoration begun by Henry and his business partner, Carl P. Daniel. An automatic sprinkler system will be installed in the three-story dwelling before the collection of Fieldiana is placed there.

Henry, whose interest was aroused when a former lessee threatened to wreck the building, has become something of an expert on Field and Fieldiana. Through the part he played in preventing the foreclosure of the Wisconsin home of Field's widow and his service as a pall-bearer at her funeral in Chicago last June, he became acquainted with the family. On subsequent vacation trips with Mrs. Henry he acquired the collection, virtually all from Field's children, but some from another source. The tastes and manners of the 70's, 80's and 90's are recalled by it.

In Memory of Poet's Wife.

The family was particularly pleased over the decision of the civic committee headed by Henry to make the east room of the second floor the Julia Field room, in memory of the poet's wife. It has been established to Henry's complete satisfaction that Field was born, in 1850, in the second floor west room. Formerly, through a misunderstanding, doubt had been raised concerning the birthplace, although it was conceded this was Field's childhood home.

Henry obtained from Charles H. Dennis of Chicago, Field's biographer, an inscription for the Julia Field room door: "Sweetheart, my sweetheart, from her childhood to her death she was."

In Henry's opinion, the collection is the finest of Fieldiana in the country and cannot be duplicated.

Items in the Collection.

Temporarily in storage now, the collection was shown recently to Superintendent of Instruction Henry J. Gerling and Secretary-Treasurer Philip J. Hickey of the Board of Education. Some of the more interesting items are:

Manuscript of "Krinken," one of Field's best-known poems, worth $2500, according to Henry. It is in ink, in Field's precise, fine, copper-plate handwriting.

Manuscript, in pencil—which was unusual—"The Death of Robin Hood," dashed off so quickly that the poet used initials rather than spell out the subject's name.

Printer's "copy" for various book-form collections of poems, prepared by Field by pasting clippings from newspapers and magazines, with the addition by him of proofreader's marks.

Various self-caricatures, such as one drawn in 1893 as the "Latest Portrait of Farmer Field (During the Burr Season)." The legs of the gawling figure are covered with burrs, in green ink.

Manuscript for a Chicago Daily News editorial, illuminated in colored ink by Field, carrying out one of his hobbies. It was written to advocate the appointment of Mary Logan to a President's cabinet.

Posthumous volume, "Poems of Childhood," with Maxfield Parrish illustrations of the best-loved verses; also a set of large colored prints of these pictures.

Autographs of Children.

A new volume of the same book, with poems written to Field's four children autographed by them. Among the signatures are those of Roswell F. Field of New York ("Posey") and Mrs. Ruth Gray Field Foster of Tomahawk, Wis. ("Sister Girl") on "Pittypat and Tippytoe" and of the latter of "Little Mistress Sans-Merci." The other signers are Eugene Field II of Heafford Junction, Wis., and Mrs. W. C. Engler of Pasadena, Cal.

Among many pictures of Field, one inscribed "To Julia, from Eugene Field, Kansas City, Feb. 18, 1881." He wore sideburns then and had more hair than he had when he died in 1895.

The poet's last writing tablet, with his reversed signature on the blotter.

Various humorous drawings by Field, such as three cards entitled: "The Decit of Dress; 1. Shelby (a politician) and his pajamas; 2. The Pajamas; 3. Shelby." Mr. Shelby evidently bought oversized sleeping garb.

Wrought-iron lamp from the hall of Field's last home, at Buena Park, near Chicago; to go in the hall of his birthplace.

Copy of Leslie's Weekly from 1895, showing pictures of Field on a step-ladder beside a curio cabinet and of his bookcase. Henry has the bookcase and will get the curio cabinet. Among objects pictured in the cabinet are an old-fashioned clockwork spit for roasting fowl at a fireplace and a brass urn, which are in the collection here.

Toys Among the Relics.

A toy bird in a cage, formerly able to flap its wings and sing, and a pair of toy acrobats, acquired in England in 1890, reflecting Field's love of children and the things that interested them.

Latin textbook used by Field and his brother, Roswell, at the University of Missouri in 1869, carrying youthful inscriptions.

The stiff linen cuffs taken off by Field the night he died, from which the gold links have never since been removed. These, with many other personal items, long were kept in his combination den, bedroom, library and workshop at the Buena Park house.

Draperies—fine India prints in turkey red—which the poet hung over the windows of this room. These and many of the personal things will be kept in the room where he was born.

Silk skull cap Field wore in the Chicago Daily News office to keep his bald head warm.

Heelless slippers he wore while writing at the Daily News. Heavy winter cap he used in Chicago's horse-car days, identified by his bookplate pasted inside.

A favorite blue and white striped necktie, which he wore in posing for many of the photographs.

Collar box and collars.

His traveling medicine kit, containing vials of laudanum, quinine and other remedies.

Two toothbrushes and a razor.

Bernhardt's Autograph.

A play autographed by Sarah Bernhardt in 1886.

The elaborate invitation to Mr. and Mrs. Field to attend the seventh Velled Prophet ball here in 1884.

Collar of his dog, Jessie, to which he wrote a poem.

Several contracts for royalties on his books, signed by publishers.

Stub of a check for $200, written by Field May 15, 1891, in favor of his wife, for purchase of a piano. Henry has arranged to obtain the piano from the poet's grandson at Tomahawk, Wis.

Bric-a-brac from the Field home, in much variety.

Such trivia as Field's rent and gas receipts.

The poet's spittoon, of old English Doulton ware, in gold and turquoise. He liked it and had it mended when it broke.

St. Louis Photographs.

Photograph by Boehl and Koenig, old-time St. Louisans, marked in Mrs. Field's handwriting: "634 South Fifth street (now Broadway), birthplace of Eugene Field."

Photograph of Field's bookcase and armchair, made here last spring by present standards. One of the dresses in the simple one she wore at the time she was married to Field in St. Joseph, Mo., when she was 16 years old. Another is the black crepe gown she wore at his funeral.

a heavy royalty paid allegedly to the owners of copyrights, so that if the State prints these books at approximately 40 per cent less cost, than they can be turned out in a commercial shop, it sells them to school children at from 25 to 40 per cent higher than the same books sell to children in other states."

"The allegation is," Doud added, "that the State is in the grip of a ring of school book representatives, who are splitting the royalty fees."

Turning to other school matters, Doud contended that the Kansas schools were in an "abysmal" condition and that Landon economies have been accomplished at the expense of school children.

Daniel by Stauffer.

Stauffer, who is editor of the Arkansas City (Kan.) Traveler, said the economies have in no way adversely affected the educational system.

"The Kansas common schools," he said in a broadcast last night on the radio series being conducted by William Hard, "are directly and wholly under the supervision of local school boards. The Governor has no jurisdiction over them."

"It is nevertheless to be noted that a larger percentage of the local Kansas tax dollar is now spent on schools than before the depression."

"It is also to be noted that Gov. Landon successfully resisted an effort to put a fixed limit on local expenditures by means of a State constitutional amendment. On this point the Kansas teachers have frequently expressed their gratitude to him."

Speaking of Highway Department finances, Stauffer said Landon had converted a deficit of $1,600,000 to a surplus of $500,000 in 18 months, "while at the same time he reduced the tax on an automobile license from a minimum of $8 to a minimum of $4."

Stauffer asserted the influence of Landon on local expenditures has been "mainly through the cash basis of 'pay as you go' law." He said this forbids communities "to spend money which they do not have."

"Kansas property taxes," Stauffer concluded, "have been reduced 32 per cent since 1929." He said the Governor was not trying to "monopolize" credit for this and had attributed it to efforts of "thousands of local officers."

28,000 MISSOURIANS NOW ON OLD AGE PENSION ROLL
7000 Added in Last 30 Days; Applications to Be Handled at Rate of 1000 Per Week.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 12.—Missouri's old age pension roll today had 28,000 people on its pension rolls, contemplated putting on other applicants at the rate of 1000 a week, Forrest Smith, State Auditor, said he had added a night staff of persons to supplement his staff in certification of the old for approved applicants. Smith said he had been informed by Len M. Thompson, State Old Age Pension Commissioner, that rest of the applicants would be added at the rate of 1000 a week. The old age assistance department as well as the State Auditor's office has been working night and day certifying the 7000 in the month.

Thompson, who a month ago ended a retroactive clause of the pension law to enable 3000 to secure dollar-for-dollar matching from the Federal Government in the program, said he expected to increase the pension rolls to 54,000 by November.

Two Defeated for Nomination Intention to Demand Account.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 12.—Charges of fraud in connection with last week's primary election were made here by two defeated candidates, who announced today that they intended to contest J. W. McFarland for the nomination of the Republican Party for Governor, which includes this city. Louis Silverman by 143 votes, he had witnesses of open buying of votes, changing of ballots and importation of voters as well as illegal registration.

Franklin P. Dunn, defeated in Democratic race for the Court by A. M. Olinde, by majority, said a Troy (Kan.) man told him that men were offered to cross into Missouri to vote and voting against Dunn. Both candidates said they were petitioning for a recount, following the official canvass of votes, which is expected to end Thursday.

LIMA, O., Aug. 12.—Miss Adella Satterthwaite, recluse, who was caring for every one, made a will, bequeathing $36,000-a-month income from her property to unmarried women of the Ohio synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Satterthwaite received her inheritance from relatives. She had lived alone, neighbors said, and went to the door when a stranger called.

LAWYER DENIES PL

Jerome A. Jacobs Testifies
Had No Part in Allege Extortion Attempt.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Jerome A. Jacobs, lawyer and one of the men charged with extorting money from Harry Bannister, former actress, denied under cross-examination today he had ever blackmailed anyone. He said he had received none of the money the State collected from Bannister's threat of attributing to him moral acts.

The other defendants, on Tuesday, General Sessions Court, are Hechheimer, formerly Bannister's attorney, and Raymond Der, a former private detective.

In direct examination Jacobs said he had discussed with Bannister and Hechheimer the affidavits and the report that Bannister desired affidavits to enable her to get full credit of her daughter, but insisted had no part in any "shake-up" plan against Bannister.

Prosecutor Finnegan questioned Jacobs about cases in which he brought charges of assault against men, but Jacobs insisted he never entered a conspiracy with anyone.

"Did Mackey ever retain you to represent him in an action against Walter Chrysler Jr.?" "No." "Did you represent Jackie A. A night club performer?" "Yes." "Have you ever been in a conspiracy to sue Walter Chrysler for $250,000?" Judge Morris asked the objection of G. Wolf, defense attorney.

"Isn't it true there were affidavits in this case, but that whole thing was a shake-down cooked in your brain?" Finnegan asked. Again Jacobs said he was not a conspirator.

LAWYER DENIES PLOT AGAINST BANNISTER

Jerome A. Jacobs Testifies He Had No Part in Alleged Extortion Attempt.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Jerome A. Jacobs, lawyer and one of the three men charged with extorting $1800 from Harry Bannister, former husband of Ann Harding, the movie actress, denied under cross-examination today he had ever blackmailed anyone. He said he had received some of the money the State charged was collected from Bannister under threat of attributing to him immoral acts.

The other defendants, on trial in General Sessions Court, are Harry Hechheimer, formerly Bannister's attorney, and Raymond Derringer, a former private detective.

In direct examination Jacobs said he had discussed with Bannister and Hechheimer the Bannister divorce and the report that Miss Harding desired affidavits which would enable her to get full custody of their daughter, but insisted he had no part in any "shake-down" plan against Bannister.

Prosecutor Finnegan questioned Jacobs about cases in which women brought charges of assault against men, but Jacobs insisted he had never entered a conspiracy against anyone.

"Did Mackey ever retain you to represent him in an action against Walter Chrysler Jr.?" "No," Jacobs replied. "Did you represent Jackie Adams, a night club performer?" "Yes."

"Have you ever been in a conspiracy to sue Walter Chrysler Jr. for $250,000?" Judge Morris Koenig sustained the objection of George Wolf, defense attorney.

"Isn't it true there were never any affidavits in this case, but that this whole thing was a shake-down concocted in your brain?" Finnegan asked.

Again Jacobs said he knew of no conspiracy.

Hechheimer, called as the next witness, testified Bannister told him he was worried when he heard that Miss Harding was going to get affidavits from persons associated with him. He said Bannister asked him to check up with all the persons likely to be sought for affidavits and determine what their attitude was.

The State closed its case yesterday, after Humbert Fugazy, sports promoter, testified on cross-examination that Bannister paid $2000 to a gunman and a go-between "to keep them from shooting him down."

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 12.—Missouri—adding 7000 of them in the last 30 days—today had 28,000 old people on its pension rolls and contemplated putting on other applicants at the rate of 1000 a week.

Forrest Smith, State Auditor, said he had added a night staff of persons to supplement his day staff in certification of the checks for approved applicants.

Smith said he had been informed by Allen M. Thompson, State Old Age Pension Commissioner, that the rest of the applicants would be added at the rate of 1000 a week.

The old age assistance department as well as the State Auditor's office has been working nights in certifying the 7000 in the last month.

Thompson, who a month ago suspended a retroactive clause of the State pension law to enable Missouri to secure dollar-for-dollar matching from the Federal Government in the program, said he expected to increase the pension rolls to $4,000 by November.

Franklin P. Dunn, defeated in the Democratic race for the County Court by A. M. Olmstead, by 336 majority, said a Troy (Kan.) man told him that men were offered $1000 to cross into Missouri from Troy and voting against Dunn.

Both candidates said they would petition for a recount, following the official canvass of votes which is expected to end Thursday.

A. F. OF L. TO REMAIN NEUTRAL IN CAMPAIGN, GREEN SAYS

Remarks He Personally Favors Roosevelt; Lewis to Speak for President in Pennsylvania.

By The Associated Press.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 12.—President William Green declared today the American Federation of Labor would remain neutral in the national campaign.

Here to address the convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance and the Bartenders' League, Green said the federation would cling to its non-partisan policy despite efforts of large labor factions to organize a united labor front for President Roosevelt.

Although his own sympathies are for Roosevelt, Green said no candidate will be officially endorsed.

"Our Nonpartisan Committee will merely prepare parallel reports on the labor records of the chief candidates and of the platforms," he said. "We will send out all data to our members and they will have to make up their own minds."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said today he intended to make several campaign speeches for President Roosevelt in Pennsylvania next fall. Lewis is associated with Labor's non-partisan League, an organization pledged to President Roosevelt's reelection.

100 SOLDIERS ON GUARD AFTER 3 IN POSSE ARE SHOT

Accused Negro Taken to Birmingham; Family Put in Jail for Safekeeping.

ANNISTON, Ala., Aug. 12.—Threatened strife brought 100 State soldiers into Calhoun County today while a Negro accused of shooting three white possmen was jailed in Birmingham for safekeeping.

Two companies of National Guardsmen were stationed at Jacksonville, 11 miles from here.

Art Bush, Negro, wanted in the shooting of Pat Hicks, Albert Hicks and Forney Martin, was said by officers to have admitted he fired into a group which came to his house near here Monday night.

Pat Hicks and Martin are in grave condition. Albert Hicks was not seriously wounded.

Troops have been called out in the Anniston district five times since July 13, when a Negro attacked Mrs. Joel Hill, farm wife.

Bush's wife said she had been threatened with hanging unless she told an armed group the names of other Negroes thought by her questioners to have been in her house Monday night.

She said she was afraid her house would be burned "with me and my children in it." The Bush barn burned yesterday. She and her five children were placed in Anniston Jail.

GRAND JURY TO INQUIRE INTO PEONAGE IN ARKANSAS

Conflicting Evidence on Sharecroppers' Treatment to Be Submitted, Cummings Says.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Attorney-General Cummings announced today the Department of Justice would present evidence of possible violation of Federal peonage laws in connection with a sharecroppers' strike in Arkansas to a Federal grand jury at Little Rock.

Announcing the completion of the Department's investigation of alleged kidnapping and violation of postal laws, he said no evidence had been discovered indicating violation of either, but that evidence concerning violation of the peonage statutes was "conflicting" making it advisable to turn the matter over to the grand jury.

He named George P. Jones, special assistant to the Attorney-General, to present the case in Little Rock.

Facts developed in connection with the alleged flogging of Miss Willie Sue Blagden of Memphis, Tenn., and the Rev. Claude C. Williams were turned over to Gov. Futrell of Arkansas about a month ago, the Attorney-General said, for such action as the State might choose to take.

BILL TO FORCE USE OF ILLINOIS COAL KILLED IN LEGISLATURE

Speaker Rules Measure Is Outside Call for Second Special Session.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12.—Backed by Republicans in a bitter debate, Speaker John P. Devine yesterday ruled that the Stuttliff bill requiring local governments to use Illinois coal was outside the call for the second special session.

Devine's ruling killed the bill, which would permit any governmental unit to buy coal from outside the State only if the price is 10 per cent lower.

Representative Frank A. Stewart, Girard Democrat, then took the unusual action of appealing from the speaker's decision but withdrew his motion when the Republican leaders immediately rallied to Devine's defense.

The bill, sponsored by Senator Harry C. Stuttliff, Littlefield Democrat, was passed by the Senate before the second session recessed in June.

NEW SOVIET PARTY TO STUDY INDUSTRIAL METHODS IN U. S.

Chief and Nine Engineers of Food Commissariat in Mission Now En Route.

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—A new Soviet Mission is on the way to the United States on what is understood to be an extensive survey of American industrial methods.

Heading the party is Anastas I. Mikoyan, Commissar of Food, who recently advocated study of American food production methods. Nine engineers of the Commissariat of the food industry accompanied him.

It is thought the mission might arrange purchases of equipment from the United States. It was disclosed what purchases might be made, although it was recalled the Soviet Government recently ordered much new machinery for the production of soap, perfume, cold cream and chocolate, and evicted state-owned machinery for the sanitary canning of foods, the bottling of milk and the preservation of fruits.

8 BOYS WHO STOLE GRAPES SENTENCED TO WRITE ESSAYS

They Plead Guilty Before Judge at Belleville; 7 of Them High School Students.

Eight boys, seven of them high school students, went before County Judge Joseph E. Fleming in Belleville yesterday and pleaded guilty of taking grapes from the vines of Aloys Schmidt, north of Belleville. Schmidt had haled them into court on a charge of larceny.

None had ever been in trouble before, Judge Fleming learned, but they had taken the grapes, eaten most of them, and given some away.

Five of the boys who are in the junior class, were sentenced to write 500-word essays on the advantages of high school education. Two freshmen got off with 100 words. The eighth, who is employed, must write a 500-word essay on the advantages of working. The essays must be in by the time school starts.

BUSINESS Equipment Replacements

ECONOMY Suggestions

Business men who make improvements in their shops and stores are using Post-Dispatch want ads to sell replaced equipment. These sales afford economy suggestions for others who can use such equipment.

One want ad told of a butter and vegetable box for sale. The owner may have enlarged his place, bought a larger box and had this one to sell. Some reader may buy this because it is larger or better than the one he is using.

Another advertiser offered a meat display case. Some reader may have needed this one.

Of interest to florists or prospective florists were two florist boxes advertised, one an electric refrigerator, the other an icebox. These were advertised in a Sunday Post-Dispatch under "store and office fixtures."

The For Sale columns present many other offers which may promote business success. Among the articles advertised are cash registers, multigraphing equipment and fixtures designed for many lines of business.

The For Sale advertisements in the Post-Dispatch are consulted daily by persons who are finding it is economical to make purchases through the want pages of the Post-Dispatch.

STEEL GROUP, RAILS LEAD BROOKLYN STOCK PRICE RISE

Alcohol Shares Also Prominent in the Upward Movement—Steel Called 'Sellers' Market—Power Production Unchanged.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Steel and carriers took over leadership in the stock market today and drove ahead over a wide front. Hopes for good second quarter earnings shortly to be released, brought brisk buying of International Nickel which rose a point or so on the heavy turnover of the session. The close was firm. Transactions totaled about 1,350,000 shares.

Industrials rose fractions to around two points or so included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, Chrysler, Douglas, Case, General Electric, Goodyear, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Pullman.

Rails which gained fractions to more than a point were Santa Fe, Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific. The better earnings of New York Central brought demand which netted the shares a rise of 1/4 point.

An upsurge of a point or so was turned in by National Distillers, Distillers Corporation—Seagrams, American Commercial Alcohol and Schenley.

Poor & Co. led the advance of specialties on hopes in the financial district present income betterment of some railway systems would bring an increase in rail equipment buying. Briggs Manufacturing was another specialty active on the rise.

Bonds were ragged with Polih, Cuban and a handful of domestic corporate issues showing wide gains. Foreign exchanges were narrow and steady.

Wheat finished steady with gains of 1/4 to 1/2 cents a bushel. Corn ended 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher. Cotton improved.

Allied Chemical showed the share market its heels with a late burst of speed, which carried it up 11 points or so. Up fractions to around a point at the close were Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, Studebaker, Delaware & Hudson, Radio and Newport Industries.

Cotton ended 90 cents to $1.10 a higher.

At mid-afternoon the pound sterling was up 1-16 of a cent at $5.02 1/2. The French franc was unchanged at 6.58 1/2 cents.

News of the Day.

Continued signs of improvement in the durable goods division was the demand for shares of companies making railroad supplies and automobile equipment.

Buying of these equities was symptomatic of the increasingly rosy hopes currently held for the steel industry, it was said. On this score, it was noted that the present better than normal rate of steel production has borne out the bright prophecies made several weeks ago that August operations would hold close to the fast pace set in July.

Meanwhile observers who have swung slightly forward in the September outlook insist they see indications that month will avoid major slackening of the output rate.

Midweek Trade Reviews.

The financial community found another share recovery wind in news from the steel industry. Although new business in some lines has slackened at a few mills the industry is still leaning on brisk general demand. "Iron Age" said.

This exists, the publication said, "particularly for sheets, bars and structural steel."

"Along with current strong demand for steel, prospects are developing that promise well for fall," it was explained.

Followers of the power shares derived encouragement from the way in which electricity output is holding gains over last year. While the total for the week ended Aug. 8 was about the same as the preceding week, it was 14.3 per cent ahead of the like 1935 week, Edison Electric Institute reported.

Horse Meat in Europe.
The College Wife.
Fewer Drunken Youths.
Russia Versus Voltaire.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

This newspaper headline, "Une Protection des Bouchers Hippophagiques," surprises no one in Europe. It would surprise many to read in a New York newspaper a translation of it—"protest by butchers for horse meat."

The Paris butchers that call themselves "Hippophagiques" from two ancient words meaning "horse" and "to eat" protest violently against the rule that they must keep their shops closed from one o'clock Sunday afternoon until Tuesday morning. Monday they say is the best day for selling horse meat.

Selling horse meat and eating it are perfectly respectable in France and many other European countries. Fortunately for one American concern manufacturing agricultural implements, it found itself with five thousand horses in the depression, the horses acquired on mortgages from farmers. Feeding the horses indefinitely was unthinkable. They were all slaughtered, packed and shipped to Europe.

For millions horse meat is as good as any meat, for many savages and barbarians it is the best of all meat. The French say: "The horse eats what the cow eats, grass, grain, hay, it is a clean animal. Its hoof is not cloven, that makes no difference because it does not chew the cud."

Many thousands of "wild" horses at large in America will be lassoed and sent to the Paris "horse meat butchers." During the siege of Paris in the war of 1870, horse meat enabled the Parisians to hold out.

A learned doctor, connected with an institute of family relations says: "A college woman, when she becomes a wife, makes more trouble than all the other classes of wives put together, with just one exception, a wife who has gone to a girl's boarding school." The doctor thinks a college woman is "too ambitious and full of ideas for any man to get along with."

The college graduate-wife might reply that a husband who cannot get along with a wife because she has ideals and ambition ought to get some other kind of a wife, and do his ambitious wife a favor.

The trouble is not with women, college graduates or others, forever striving to improve the human race and make husbands worth while. The trouble is with poor material supplied by the men. Through the ages, thousands of centuries, men have changed from big-jawed cannibals to their present imitation of civilization, always complaining of women.

The alcoholic beverage control board gives the following information in New York State. The end of prohibition brought about "definite economic, social and moral gains," according to the report. More beer and less gin are consumed.

The most earnest prohibitionist will admit that beer properly brewed, is less harmful than "bathtub gin." Also flask and bootleg liquor has largely disappeared from the hip pockets of school boys, and the amount of drinking and drunkenness among the young has diminished.

The present Russian attempt to "do without religion" has lasted longer than similar attempts and failures have ever lasted, and it will interest writers of history.

Will this generation gradually return to the faith of their fathers, or will they justify Samuel Johnson's belief that lack of religious ceremonial may be fatal to religious belief.

"To be of no church is dangerous. Religion, of which the rewards are distant, and which is animated only by faith and hope, will glide by degrees out of the mind unless it be invigorated and reimpregnated by external ordinances, by stated calls to worship and the salutary influence of example."

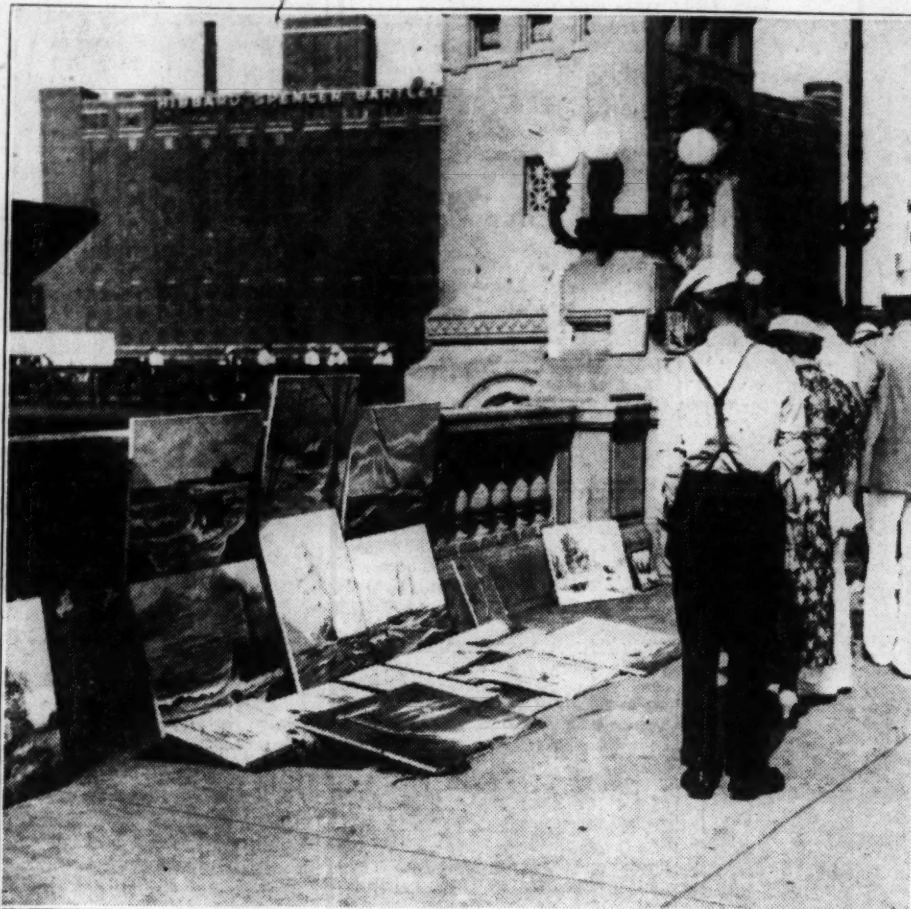

In Voltaire's statement, "If there had not been a god, it would have been necessary to invent one," there is more wisdom than in Russia's theories.

Here is a good piece of advice to give to your young friends. Beautiful young Princess Elizabeth Hatzfeldt wrote it in the album of Philip Eulenberg that Von Buelow quotes in his memoirs: "Do not dream your experiences—experience your dreams."

How much time is spent in dreaming, planning, in self-deception, in building castles in the air? To build a small bungalow on solid earth is more important than to build 1000 castles in the air. To have one dream and then make it a reality is better than a million fascinating dreams.

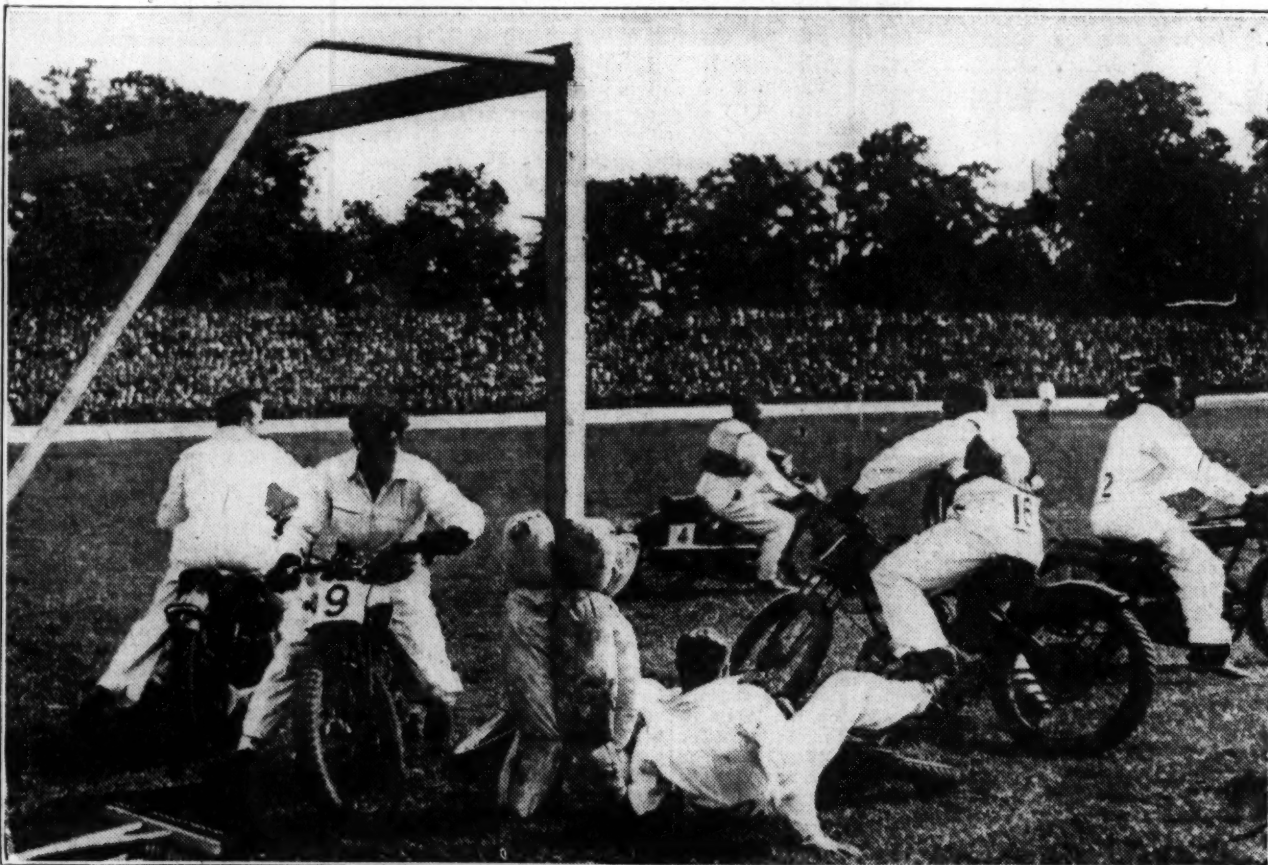

"Experience your dreams," that is say, make the dream, the idea, a part of actual experience.

Description of Stamp Issue For Feminist

THE Post Office Department has announced that the special postage stamp which is to be issued in honor of Susan B. Anthony, is of the ordinary size, 0.75 by 0.75 inches in dimensions, arranged vertically. It is enclosed in a double border and is printed in purple. In a horizontal panel with dark ground across the top of the stamp is the wording, "U. S. Postage" in white Roman. The central design is a portrait of Susan B. Anthony looking to the left. The portrait is enclosed in an oval frame with white edges and dark ground. In a curved panel with white ground at the base of the portrait is the name "Susan B. Anthony" in dark Gothic. In a narrow panel with dark ground along the lower edge of the stamp is the inscription reading "Suffrage for Women" in white Gothic. Immediately above, on either side, within circular panels with white edges and dark ground is the denomination designation "3c" in white. The stamp is being printed by the rotary process and will be issued in sheets of 100 stamps.

For the benefit of collectors desiring selected stamps for philatelic use, the Anthony stamp will be placed on sale at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., Aug. 25, but the agency will not prepare covers for mailing on that date. Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations on Aug. 26 may send a limited number of addressed covers, not to exceed a total of 10, with cash or postal money order remittance payable to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C., covering the value of the stamps required for affixing. Personal checks, or other postage stamps will positively not be accepted in payment. To receive the Aug. 26 postmark, covers must reach the Postmaster before the close of business on that date. The Susan B. Anthony stamp will be placed on sale at other post offices throughout the country on the following day, or as soon thereafter as production will permit.

Stamp collectors have a prospect of a great number of new stamps during the coming season. Throughout the world a number of important anniversaries as well as records of political and economic developments will take their place in stamp albums through the means of commemorative stamps.

The greatest number of new stamps will come from the British Empire. The coronation of Edward VIII will result in a stream of new stamps from those colonies and possessions now using the head of the late George V on their stamps. This issue is not problematical but will be definitely issued as the ruling head of England is always pictured on the British Empire stamps; however none of these stamps will be issued before the start of the new year.

The country which will rank second during the coming year is number of new issues will probably be France, due to the International Exposition which will be held in Paris. According to an announcement each of the 23 colonies will have six stamps apiece in addition to those issued by the mother country. It is expected that the total issue will run almost to 150 stamps.

gratitude is not what you would call overwhelming.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I WANTED a puppy so bad that I finally my father got one for me in exchange for some merchandise. It is a darling little poodle, three weeks old. It has never been away from its mother before and I am only 13 years old and have not had much experience with dogs (especially young ones). I would like to know the best way to feed him, and how often to wash him, and how long must I give him milk. I cannot afford to spend much on him and would like to know if it is absolutely necessary to get him a bottle.

Altogether, you and the poor puppy are in a peck of trouble—were. Now that we have slightly cooler weather, I am sure some of your perplexity has passed away. It is cooler now, but may turn warm again, and you must remember then that a tiny pup can stand a good deal of heat, as he would if he were still with his mother, and had the heat of her body near.

It just happens that I like puppies just as much as you—well, and cats and birds and parrots and what do you think of my taking up a little monkey in my arms not long ago and scandalizing the neighborhood? But I did it before I thought. He looked at me so appealingly and put his hand on my arm after I helped him pick up his pennies, he had dropped, and he was so soft (like a little downy chicken). He was funny too; did all his stunts for me without being told, stood on his head!

But to go back to the puppy—If you will telephone a veterinarian or if you can afford it, go to one, or to the Humane Society, and they will tell you just how to care for your puppy. Even a pet shop will give you information. But a little I can tell you. Feed milk five times a day three feedings of cow's milk, into which put one teaspoon karo syrup, and two feedings of meat broth. After a few weeks, start feeding ground fresh meat alternately with milk.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
A GROUP of girls and boys (18 to 20 years old) have to make a trip on the river boat late in August, about the twenty-fifth. Do the boys have to wear coats and neckties if they have to dance?

This question started an argument. One of the girls said the boys had to wear coats and another said they didn't. This excursion is in the day time.

Which would be the more proper for the girls to wear, an organdie dress and silk stockings or a sports dress and socks?

It is proper to wear sports clothes on the boat. And boys must wear coats with suits—though they can wear sports things too.

Lobster Mold As Feature of Dinner Menu

Recipes for Meal Which Includes Novel Rolls and Strawberry Dish.

By Gladys T. Lang

Du Barry Soup
Lobster Mold Supreme Bacon Rolls
Strawberry Coupe
Nut Lace Wafers

Du Barry Soup
Boil one-half cup of rice in two quarts of clear chicken bouillon and when the rice is tender rub all through a colander with one cup of cooked cauliflower. Season with salt and white pepper, celery and onion salt and add one pint of half cream and half milk and bring to a good boil. Add a lump of butter. Serve in bouillon cups and garnish with a small flower of cauliflower and a sprinkling of paprika.

Lobster Mold Supreme
Lightly butter a mold and press skinned sections of grape fruit, closely together against sides and bottom. If sections are thick cut in slices. Cut boiled lobster into pieces having two cups of the lobster meat and one cup of finely cut up celery. Marinate the lobster and celery in French dressing for an hour, then drain. Soften one dessert spoon of gelatine in three tablespoons of cold water, then dissolve over hot water. Let cool slightly and add to one and a half cups of highly seasoned mayonnaise. Fold this into the lobster and celery and pack into mold. Place in refrigerator to set. Turn out on a bed of lettuce hearts and garnish with watercress and lobster claws.

Bacon Biscuits
Cut three level tablespoons of lard and one of butter in two cups of flour, sifted with three teaspoons of baking powder and a pinch of salt. With a fork slowly stir in enough milk to make a soft dough, about two-thirds of a cup. Toss onto a floured board and knead lightly. Roll out about one-fourth inch thick and cut into rounds. On each place a piece of crisp bacon, cover with another piece of dough and press together lightly. Bake in a quick oven.

Strawberry Coupe
Cut up fresh ripe strawberries and sprinkle with sugar and a little rum. Place in a bowl and let stand in refrigerator to marinate. Just before serving beat the whites of two eggs very stiff, adding slowly one-half cup of powdered sugar, beating as the sugar is being added. Fold into the strawberries to coat them thoroughly. Serve in coupe glasses surrounded with crushed ice and decorate with a roseette of whipped cream and a marion which has been soaked in rum.

Nut Lace Wafers
One cup of light brown sugar.
One cup of chopped pecans.
Three level tablespoons of flour.
One teaspoon of baking powder.
One-half cup of butter.
One egg.
One teaspoon of vanilla.
Cream the butter and sugar until very light. Sift the flour and baking powder and mix with nuts and add to the creamed sugar and butter, then the egg and vanilla. Mix thoroughly and drop from tip of spoon on to a greased pan about two inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven about five minutes. Remove from tin while still warm.

very good sport and good company. She is getting to be a shadow of her former self. What can I or anyone else do to help her? Shall I tell him and make him realize what he has and doesn't appreciate?

I care a great deal for this girl and I hate to see her in this condition. But I know I could never care for her or anyone else the way she cares for him. She would cut off her right arm if she knew it would make him happy. All her friends and his know how much she loves him but what seems to be the trouble with him. I know she does little things for him that ought to make him realize it. Is he dumb or just a plain every day cad? H.

In this day of independent, clever, athletic, good sports among young women, it is pretty hard to realize there can be a case which borders on the tragedy of "Laurel and Elaine." Perhaps we have a healthier set of young swains at the present time; to whom the maiden wasting away for love does not appeal, particularly. As if the truth must be told the husky race of males prevalent now is not attracted or held long by girls who are not, at least to all appearances, independent and popular.

A good, wholesome talk and much wholesome exercise and out of doors, I think would bring the young lady around, physically and mentally, and bring the young man around more often, hustling to keep up with her both as to dates and achievement.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will acknowledge all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

TWO TRENDS IN FALL FASHIONS

ELIZABETH of England and Mary of Scotland styles also are outstanding in late modes. In the gown sketched, upper left in the drawing, the cloth of gold pipings and chop-paper ruff of England's Queen are tamed down for latter-day chic. Royalty's voluminous-topped sleeves are taken over in miniature, and the shadow of her petticoat-stuffed skirt feather-trimmed betel.

IN the other gown, lower left, it is Mary's tight bodice and quilted velvet yoke and sleeves which are aped, the detailing here being punch work instead of quilting. The collar is a pseudo-Elizabethan design, very flattering to Princess 1937. Both hats sketched are authentic with history's record—the off-the-face halo, and the feather-trimmed betel.

ple mesh, the gauntlet cuffs a larger mesh, and note their pretty flare! You'll wear these with sports and dressy ensembles alike, so better have several pairs! Pattern 1175 contains detailed directions for making the gloves shown in a small, medium and large size (all given in one pattern); illustrations of them and of all stitches used; material requirements.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

A Poor Job
If you find you have not enough fat to fry the croquettes in deep fat, do not spoil them by even trying. Put the croquettes in a greased pan and bake in a hot oven, turning so they are browned all over.

Further Wear
If the light-colored dancing slippers are scuffed and shabby from feet other than one's own, why not have them dyed black or some dark color? Many shops will dye slippers at a nominal rate if you are afraid to attempt it at home.

Ham and Cheese Sandwiches.
Just the thing to pep up the picnic basket. One part deviled ham, one part grated cheese, one part tomato puree. Blend ham and cheese and add tomato puree. Spread between thin slices of buttered white or whole wheat bread.

Millinery In addition to black there will be plenty of wine and Tonal green tones in fall hats. There is, for instance, a dashing highlander's cap in black velvet, forward-tilted, with an open top and a wine-colored grosgrain ribbon-bow on top, with long streamers down the back.

Propriety for Young Women Who Are Alone

Conditions Decide Correctness of Having House Guests—Weekends.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post:
WE ARE two sisters, 31 and 33 years old, living in a four-room apartment and going to business. To state our problem frankly, would it be proper to let our apartment when they are from distant cities? We don't mean just any friends, but the men whom we've known for years, who go out of their way to see us, stop off to see us in this, our adopted town. We have always been taught that real politeness is simply kindness and it does look unkind to turn away old friends from the only home in which we have to extend hospitality. And yet!—what is your answer?

Answer: How can I possibly answer a question like this? It all depends! Are you in a huge city like Chicago, living among strangers, where not a single neighbor knows you or cares anything about you, where appearances in other words make no difference whatever, and your behavior therefore is not a question of superficial appearance but of the actual propriety of behavior which is known only to yourselves? In this situation, let us say, it is entirely proper to be as hospitable as you choose to your home town friends. On the other hand, if you are living in a small town where gossip can very easily misconstrue superficial appearance, you might perhaps be criticized no matter how little the criticism is actually deserved. You yourself know which is the answer to your question.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have an invitation to spend the week-end at the cottage of very dear friends of a good friend of mine. My friend brought the invitation by word of mouth. Frankly, I feel that his friends should have written me a note, and yet on the other hand I feel that it would be rather silly to spoil my own fun by showing that I care. Don't you think so?

Answer: According to every rule, the one thing that a girl should never do is to be "just brought along" by a man to the house of a hostess who is a friend of his and not of hers. There are perhaps exceptions to rules, of course. If it is really understood that they expected you and that they considered the invitation adequate, then let us say that your case is the exception. On Broadway

By Walter Winchell

New York Heartbeat.

Faces About Town: Jascha Heifetz, the virtuoso, shattering the violinist tradition by entering the Savoy-Plaza hotelists for a hair cut... Lovely to Look At June...

Lang of the Cinema City admiring her likeness in front of the Elvira movie temple via the "Road to Glory" billing... Carmela Ponselle, the mezzo-soprano, anking out of her Cadillac at Fifth and Broadway to enter the upper-bound subway... Helen Vinson (Mrs. Fred Perry) pausing at Fifty-third and Park with her dog... Anne Nichols, producer of "Abie's Irish Rose," and the current "Treasure of the Valley" show, telling a companion that she will keep it running for another six months, "just to show those critics"...

Salles in Our Alley: The curtain of a turkey show was tardy in lifting the other performance. "Wonder what's holding it back?" someone asked. "I guess," guessed another, "that the juvenile and the ingenue were delayed at a meeting of the Townsdown Club." Two chorus girls were swimming along together. Said the first belle: "If I ever expect to get anywhere in this profession I'll have to get some publicity." Said the second: "Why don't you get Rudy Vallee or Tommy Manville to propose to you?" Izzy Manville proposed to "that" show at Loew's State. "That 'San Francisco' picture is a knock-out. At the end of it there's a big earthquake, the gutter opens up—and then a columnist comes out!"

New York Novelties: You've read his name often in the columns. He owns one of the better night clubs. A couple of years ago, when many of the locals were paying off to keep from going on a ride, he was tipped that his name was on the list. Soon afterward the word got around that he was broke, and he was never approached for the pay-off-of-the-rioters tip. Because when he received the tip, he phoned every racketeer in town and tried to borrow $150 "to pay my grocery bill." It worked! They thought he was broke—so why bother him?

Sounds in the Night: In the French Casino: "Let's look at the show—we can always look at each other!" In the Stork Club: "I'm in the moving picture business, my dear. I can push you right to the top." At Claremont Inn: "For her a candid camera is libelous." In the Hollywood: "He always lies down after he drinks on account of he's afraid of falling." The Versailles bar: "A war between North and South Dakota? Why, you're positively fantastic!" In the Paradise: "He's a great guy to have around—around a hundred miles away." In the Yacht Club: "Would you care to corroborate the rumor that you're nuts?" In Lindy's (the third booth on the right Monday night): "I see Winchell's back" "What No knife in it?"

Middle of the Nightmares: At 12th and Lexington, Tuesday morning at 4:40. An argument over a girl, a pocket knife, a fight, a dead man... The free-for-all at Ivan Frank's Hofbrau on Broadway near Fifty-third at 2:30 a. m. Members of the Monarch of Bermuda crew, all housegoosed, after a stabbing... At 3:30 a. m. on Fifth at 10th, a block from the Mayor's residence—a dozen cops fighting one wild man... About 1:35 a. m. at Ninety-seventh and Broadway: A boy and girl on a motor-bike. The lights were with them. But a motorist got them in time, by polly, fracturing one of her legs. Her name is Joan Paroli of 117 W. Ninety-sixth... A columnist witness rushed her in his car to Reconstruction Hospital.

Broadway Love Story Version No. 445673: A year ago he was important on the Big Apple. He earned heavy commissions from the biggies... So in love was he with an obscure newcomer that he neglected his business to serve her whims... He promised her that at the end of one year he would have her in Hollywood or in the higher brackets somewhere in the allied professions... His clients weariest of his neglect... They dropped him... The bank account he had dwindled quickly—buying her costly apparel, fees for this and that, gifts for her, and you know how men go when they go... She finally landed on the movie coast with a contract... Through his efforts... So what? Well, of course!... She told him she was grateful, but she had thought things over, etc... Her real heart, she said, was with her out there, and would he stop writing to her and phoning as it put her in "a spot"... The next day, while en route to the studios for her first job, she escaped death in a crash... But her face is beyond repair!

Nick Makes an Unexpected Proposal to Elsa—Joe Sterling Has Information That Startles.

CHAPTER THREE.

"TELL me about you," Elsa breathed in the dusk. Nick grinned, his fine teeth gleaming white. "Me? Why, I'm only beginning. The cocon that I used to be lived in a rather imposing house in Galveston, went to school, to college, and finally disappointed the best father in the world by refusing to be tied down for life to the wholesale grain business." Some of the brightness went out of his face.

"It was—Well, dad counted on me to carry on—he stopped abruptly and stared out over the water. "It wasn't easy for you to disappoint him," Elsa said. "I'll never get over the hurt of it. But there's something in me that's got to be satisfied, the urge to create, the"

"I know," Elsa put in softly, her gaze on his rapt face. Nick laid his hand on hers, absently, as if just to feel her near. His touch thrilled her. She went a little sick at the thought of Cris; she almost wished she could have died like that, with Nick's hand on hers, his eyes smiling into hers, before he knew. "You're a thousand times dearer than I dreamed you'd be," he said gently. Elsa choked back a sob. She'd have to tell him; she couldn't let him go on like that. She tried to figure blindly where it would all lead.

"Nick," she began brokenly, her hand trembling beneath his. "I know. We'll be married as soon as we land. Then"—he paused. Elsa gasped. She went suddenly cold and numb. Married as soon as they landed. She lay, for what seemed ages, looking at him blankly. "My allowance won't afford us much luxury, but we won't have to scratch along on that always. I mean to pay dad back every cent when I get on my feet. I should wait, I know," he paused, his splendid young face aglow with adoration. "But the waiting would rob us of something life would never offer us again," he ended in a hushed voice.

Even in the dusk Elsa could see the light in his ardent blue eyes. Still she couldn't speak. Nick's glance wavered. "I see—I shouldn't have spoken. What I have to offer a girl like you"—His words sounded hard and flat. Elsa came to life, startled, groping for a way out. "Oh, not that, Nick. I just wasn't sure I was happening to you. The deck was deserted. Music drifted out through the open doors. No doubt they were missing dinner. "Oh, yes, you did know, from the first time, even before you knew who I was. And I knew," he ended huskily. There was something final in his words that frightened Elsa. He took her in his arms like a young temptress, hugging her wildly, setting his hard cheek against hers until it hurt. She closed her eyes.

"You're so far beyond anything I ever dreamed you'd be." His arms, his voice, were all tenderness. He hadn't kissed her. Elsa hoped he wouldn't. "I'll have enough for two to live on, later—" he drew back, tilting her head up until his eyes looked into hers. Something in their expression made Elsa realize what she had done. She drew away, quickly, definitely. Cris— "Nick, I can't; oh, I can't!" she Sterling looked at her for a moment in silence. "Shall we find a seat, if you are in no hurry to be found?" Elsa smiled. Strangely enough she welcomed his company. Anything to keep from thinking. Sterling drew two chairs into the shadow of the second boat. "I've seen precious little of you lately—enjoying yourself immensely, I suppose?" he asked. "It's rather sick—so many interesting people," she said simply. "One in particular," Sterling put in. "Young Hudson's pretty keen on you," he added, his eyes on her face.

It was too dark to see clearly, but Elsa could feel his gaze; friendly enough, but it made her uncomfortable. "I think he's—well, I like him," she finished shortly. She was watching a man, standing a little distance away. He was smoking, and the light from his cigarette blinked weirdly against a velvet background. "It's interesting, but what will Cris say?" Elsa flared up like a torch. "What business is it of his?" she asked, a flash of anger in her voice. Sterling shrugged his ample shoulders. "My dear—perhaps it is no business of his, I only thought—" he paused. Elsa felt hot with shame. "Of course—I had forgotten; you are

The Birds Join The Concert in Puddle Muddle

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE concert had finally turned out to be so good that the birds all came around and sang, and that made the Puddle Muddlers feel their music was a success. Now Willy Nilly had another idea.

"Let's have a paper chase," he said. "Jelly and Honey Bear can lead the chase and the rest of us will try to pick up the trail." "In case you've forgotten how it is played, I'll tell you. Jelly and Honey Bear will start off several hours ahead of us. They will have a basket filled with tiny little pieces of paper and they will make a long trail—scattering the papers here and there.

"But not only will they do that. No, not only will they make a long trail which we will follow, but they will scatter some of the paper over false trails.

"We'll start off on a false trail and get ever so far before we realize that it's not the right trail and then we'll have to go back to the place where we left the right one and try to find our way again.

"Now, Jelly and Honey Bear, here is a basket filled with little pieces of paper. Leave a few every so often on the big, long trail you decide to take, but leave them, too, you know, along side paths and off trails to throw the chasers off the scent.

"Make it so confusing that we, who follow, will not know which is the right one and which is the false one. Make the hard trail the correct one for a while and then turn it into an easy run. Oh, make it as hard as possible to follow and just as confusing as you can.

Jelly and Honey Bear started off with their basket. "You. He never intended to!" he must be wrong, of course; his words suggested a situation completely incongruous with what she knew. "But he does intend to," she pointed out. "Of course he does! Why, he would never have told you to meet me if he didn't want me."

She could see the look of infinite pity on his face. "Of course he wants you, my dear. And you're going to marry you. My lord, and he thinks you understood that all along."

He wanted her, but he didn't intend to marry her; he never had; he thought she understood that... "It isn't true," she whispered breathlessly, but she knew it was true. Cris didn't intend to marry her. He was bringing her across the ocean, sending her money—not as his wife-to-be, but as the woman who would grace his home for a while until he tired of her, until he found someone else...

"I can't do it," she breathed aloud. Sterling gripped the hand that had fallen weakly on the arm of her chair. His gesture seemed to say that other women had said the same thing, and found out they were wrong. Nothing shocked him of course; apparently nothing even surprised him; not even his revelation that had left the girl's mind whirling.

He stood up. "I've told you; that's all I could do. What you do now depends on yourself. Shall I leave you here, or are you going below?" "I'll stay," she said weakly. "I'll send Hudson along if I run across him."

"Please—don't tonight," she said, a bit desperately. Sterling turned and left her abruptly. For some time she sat perfectly still. Perhaps if she hadn't fainted that day in Bert's place all this wouldn't have happened to her. But then she would never have known Nick; she'd rather suffer anything than have missed that...

But just what was happening to her? She was in midocean, sailing to a man who wanted her—but didn't want her in marriage. A man whose desire of her had seemed sanctuary—but had proved to be a trap to ensnare her. She couldn't go on, of course; but could she go back? Back to a jobless career, to days of weak hunger?

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

by WYNN

For Thursday, Aug. 14. USE the lessons of experience, of others who are older and wiser in some ways than you are. Don't follow others blindly, but listen to their slant and analyze it seriously today. Move ahead another notch.

No Major War Yet. At the present time we are coming out of a commercial off-beat. The way men have handled it has been better than usual, for we haven't yet stamped ourselves into a major war—although the danger is by no means over. We see too much evidence that some are relying on force instead of cooperation. The reason for holding back has been a blend of fear and sense. Build the sense.

Yor Year Ahead. Your year ahead is creative in personal ways. Do it yourself, if possible, see new ways of improving your services for money rewards. Loved ones, partners, law, may aid. Danger: Aug. 26 to Oct. 26, and from Feb. 5.

Tomorrow. Tendency is to be too quick for accuracy, thinking or touring. (Copyright, 1936.)

Homemade Cream Cheese. A homemade cheese that takes care of the milk that sours so much more quickly during the warm weather. Add the grated rind and juice of one lemon to the sour milk and place in a cheese bag to drip. Let drain for 24 hours in a cool place and then turn out, sweeten to taste and add a pinch of salt. Beat until smooth, adding sweet cream if desired. Serve on an attractive dish with a dash of paprika for garnish.

Blueberry Pie. Make a rich pastry, enough for top and bottom crusts. Use one quart box of blueberries for a good-sized pie. Stir into the washed berries three-quarters cup sugar, two tablespoons lemon juice and two tablespoons flour. Dust flour into the lower crust. Pour in berries and cover with upper crust. Bake in a hot oven until the crust is a rich brown, then turn the gas down and continue baking for 15 minutes to cook the berries well.

Just a Suspicion. When just a trace of onion is desired, rub the inside of the bowl with a cut onion before putting in the other ingredients, or use onion salt in the recipe in place of plain salt.

I like ABSO CRYSTALS for my bathroom. It takes such little effort to brighten the fixtures, clean the floor and walls thoroughly. A little ABSO softens the bath water and leaves no "ring." Use ABSO in the kitchen to keep things healthfully clean. SPORTS KERICHEF IN EACH BOX BOTH 10c

The Gloomy Viewpoint of Human Life

By The Rev. J. F. Newton

"WHEN you say 'Let's laugh' I am amazed," writes a reader. "Where did you, a clergyman, get the idea?"

"Not from the Bible, which is absolutely devoid of a sense of humor. God laughs only in mockery and derision at the defeat of His enemies. Jesus wept, but He was never known even to smile.

"Man is totally depraved and utterly corrupt, and that is no laughing matter. Even his finest deeds are as 'filthy rags' in the sight of God, the Bible plainly tells us. It is not the fact?

"A way is supposed to have been provided for escape from this terrible state, a way so plain that any faring man, though foolish, need err therein. But in fact, it is not plain at all.

"The way requires such involved beliefs that one of its greatest experts, St. Paul, feared that he might make a mistake and be lost, and miss the prize of eternal life for which he was striving.

"What is there to laugh at in this state, a way so plain that any faring man, though foolish, need err therein. But in fact, it is not plain at all.

"A few, by lucky chance, have good heredity and a fairly well training, and achieve physical, mental and emotional happiness. Most of us are handicapped, frustrated, unhappy all our lives.

"All we have is a hope that a better life may be better than this. But even that hope is clouded by threats of eternal punishment, which makes a possible future life a thing of dread.

"It is impossible for me to think of religion or life as my reward. His outlook is too gloomy and hopeless. He sees the shadows, and no light at all, and that cannot be wise.

No, Stevenson was right—if religion makes us sad, something is wrong with it. It ought to be joyful, not terror.

If my reader will look into the life of Jesus he will find that he was radiantly happy, not the way begone being of legend.

Revolving Without Timetables
By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE automobile has released the Summer vacationist from the tyranny of the Summer boarding house. In the old days you stayed put for your two-weeks' vacation whether you liked it or not. Now, if the landlady gives you a wrong look or egg, you office the wife with a nod that decodes, "Let's see what's over the hill."

So you hitch the gasoline to the shay

In the old days you stayed put because you bought a railroad ticket between two points and it was not polite to point to any other place. Transportation was costly and vital. Walking was personal, roads were rutty and hay-wagons didn't travel on schedule.

But thanks to the motor car and its shadow, the trailer, you can now bounce over the hill and play a deep left field for the next egg. All the ceremony required: a little water in the radiator, a whistle to the dog and a nod to the wife. Away you go like a feather on the breeze, enjoying the panoramic vista and blowing smoke rings over hitchhikers' thumbs.
